Right Tax Measure Always Turns Out To Be Popular One

THE spectacle is predicted in the next congress of the democrats out-Melloning Mellon. Instead of cutting the maximum surtax to 25 per cent, as Mellon proposes, some of the democratic leaders are talking of half that. The argument according to cynical Washington correspondents, who never see any but vote-getting motives, is that last year the democrats tried the experiment of joining with the insurgents, on the supposition that it was popular to lower the taxes on small incomes and keep them up on large ones. But, from the election, they concluded that there was something unpopular about their party, and inferred that it must be this. So now they may try the reverse policy, to see if that is any more popular.

How would it be for somebody to consider, not popularity, but right? Fortunately, in financial matters the right policy eventually becomes the popular one. It vindicates itself by its practical operation. Taxes may be too low, as well as too high. Results tell.

The worst way to adjust taxes is to try either to "cinch the rich" or to bluff the poor. If you really succeed in cinching the rich, you usually injure the poor, by lowering wages, raising prices, and increasing unemployment. More often you do not succeed, but merely bluff the poor into thinking that you have done so.

The very tax that seems to favor the poor is likely to be the one which they pay themselves, most burdensomely. If the Mellon plan seems to be gaining in popularity, it is because the people have found this out. If there are any who think this popularity is undeserved, they should show it, not by phrases, denunciations and appeals to prejudice, but by figures that will stand analysis.

DR. CALLANDER, of San Francisco, has just received a medal from the American Medical Association for a new method and apparatus for taking the temperature of the human body. Under the ethics of the medical profession, this is the only reward Dr. Callander will get. If it were a business invention, business ethics would expect him to patent it, and charge royalties for its use. Medical ethics require medical discoveries to be disclosed in full, and given without charge for the use of the world. That is, in fact, one way to tell the real from the false, in medical claims. If it is a secret, or a patent, or exploited on business principles, it is a fraud.

* * *

OUTSIDE of medicine, there are also ways to tell the true from the false, in claimed inventions. A group of alleged engineers in Vienna got financial backing for a pretended perpetual motion machine invented by one of them. Finally, after much money had gone in, and nothing come out, the machine was submitted to the president of the School of Technology, who promptly pronounced it worthless. The blunder was in seeking expert advice last instead of first.

If anybody comes to you to back a mysterious invention, refer him to the professor of his branch in the nearest large university, and take no excuses. Whoever and whatever will not face that test is unsafe.

FORMER Governor Glasscock, of West irginia, advises the south to change its politics, not, of course, by going republican, but by part of its people becoming republican, and by part of its elections going republican, part of the time. Even with the democrats normally victorious, he would like enough opposition to make the victory interesting, and enough jealous watching to keep the democrats straight.

It is, of course, good advice, but it will take more than argument to do it. If part of the negroes would become democrats, it would be easier for part of the white people to become republicans. Also, if there were a real rivalry between parties, and both of them wanted negro votes, as they do in Indiana, it might restore real negro suffrage to competent negroes, without danger of domination by the incompetent. It might. But don't look for it over night. In West Virginia, perhaps, or North Carolina. But not in Georgia and Mississippi.

43 PERISH IN COLLAPSE OF BOSTON CLUB

Deaths Due to Fireworks Decrease in Comparison With Former Years' Toll

MANY ARE DROWNED

Traffic Also Takes Alarming Number of Lives During Holiday Observance

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, July 6.—Fourth of July celebrations and week-end outings took a toll of between 200 and 300 lives in the larger cities of the United States, a checkup by the United Press showed today.

Boston, where 43 members of a notorious night club who were "dancing in the fourth," were killed in a building collapse, led the casualty list.

Police reports throughout the country show that the number of deaths due to fireworks and explosives was gratifyingly small this year, but traffic and drowning accidents showed an alarming increase.

Chicago was second to Boston with 30 deaths, six from fire crackers, 11 from drowning, 10 from auto accidents and four homicides, attributed to celebrations of Independence day.

Other cities where heavy losses were reported include:

Detroit, 21; New York, 20; Indianapolis and the larger cities of Indiana, 19; St. Louis, 11; Baltimore, 7; Pittsburgh, 5; Los Angeles, 7; Washington 4, and San Francisco, 4.

Sixteen persons lost their lives in Ohio due to holiday outings Saturday and Sunday, 14 in traffic accidents.

Five persons were drowned at Wilmington, Del., and eight at Hamilton, Ont. Philadelphia reported five deaths due to drowning and four persons killed by automobiles.

DANCE OF DEATH TOLL REACHES 43

BOSTON, July 6.—The toll of the Pickwick Club's "Dance of Death" probably will remain at 43.

At noon today, practically the last of the wreckage of the old Dreyfus hotel building, which collapsed Friday night while the club was holding its annual "before the Fourth" dance, had been cleared away. No additional bodies had been found since last night, when more than a score were uncovered.

Officials in charge of the work said they believed all the bodies had been brought out unless it should be found that players in a dice game, reported to have been in progress in a remote corner of the building, had been killed. The debris of that particular section was all that remained to be searched.

A score, taken from the terrible tangle of debris, which spilled over into an adjacent excavation as the entire building crashed in, are in city hospitals and some of these may not live.

The tragedy came swiftly in the midst of an all-night dance, attended by members of the Pickwick club, which was famous for its "Bohemian" entertainment.

Dancers thronged the floor of the ball room, applauding for an encore. The club occupied the second story of the structure, which was not otherwise tenanted.

Without warning save a few preliminary rumbles that scarcely sounded above the laughter and voices, the ceiling fell in upon the celebrants and the floor gave way beneath their feet. Men and women were hurled together into a terrible vortex of flesh and splintered timbers and tangled framework, down to the basement of the structure, while the rest of the five stories fell in on top of them.

Favor Congress Designating Day of Defense

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The war department intends to ask congress to designate a special National Defense day for the future, Major Gen. John L. Hines, chief of staff, announced today.

This action is contemplated as a result of the failure of Saturday's defense tests to measure up to the standard set a year ago.

The department is convinced that the summer weather and the holiday significance of July 4 made it an inappropriate date for holding a national test.

SANTA BARBARA EARTH RUMBLES FAIL TO CEASE

(By United Press)

SANTA BARBARA, July 6.—Quake-ruined Santa Barbara was rapidly returning to normal today, to the accompaniment of earth rumbles which continue intermittently, but with diminishing volume.

More than 700 faint shakes since the terrific upheaval a week ago which devastated the city have been recorded on the local seismograph. Approximately 75 of these shocks were felt throughout the city.

The city was still without gas, but water, phone and lighting service were restored to normal. No fires were allowed in buildings, and all cooking was done over campfires. Residents still sleep outdoors.

500 Clear Away Debris

More than 500 men continued the task of clearing away the quake debris, fencing off dangerous buildings. Seventy-four large business structures have been condemned, and many owners have already torn down the walls.

Scientists hunting for active earth faults reported today they had found five defects in the quake area about Santa Barbara. They have not located the one responsible for the destruction, however, they said.

The old mission, keystone landmark of Santa Barbara, will be the first of the quake-razed edifices to be reconstructed.

Plans for complete reconstruction of the historic mission were under way today. The ancient Spanish padres founded the old Santa Barbara when they erected the mission in 1786. They will be emulated by the present Franciscan fathers, who will inaugurate the reconstruction of the new city that is to rise from the ruins of disaster.

$750,000 To Rebuild Mission

Father Superior Augustine estimates the cost of rebuilding the Santa Barbara mission will be approximately $750,000. A good share of this has already been raised by voluntary subscriptions, he said.

State street will not be rebuilt until the formal report of geologists making a survey of the earthquake zone has been made. Preliminary findings of the experts indicate there is a quake fault running directly across the city, and it may be decided necessary to rebuild Santa Barbara's business district on new ground.

The destroyed area was kept under guard of 300 marines today. Sightseers still were banned from the city.

JURY PANEL CALLED FOR SCOPES CASE

Barefoot Boy In Overalls And Too Young to Read Draws Names from Hat

Tennessee Town Prepares For Evolution Trial, But Faces Possible Transfer

(By United Press)

DAYTON, Tenn., July 6.—A panel of 29 citizens of Rhea county, predominently farmers, from which the Scopes evolution trial jury will be chosen, was picked by 16 justices of the peace here today.

The names were drawn from a hat by a small barefoot boy in overalls elected for the honor because he was too young to read.

The panel is made up of 17 farmers, including one ex-teacher and one ex-member of the legislature, five merchants including a member of the Dayton city commission, one tanner, one ex-professor of the University of Tennessee, one teacher in the county public schools, one former U. S. marshal, one real estate agent, one doctor and one "teacher and farmer."

Dayton May Lose Trial.

Dayton was in a state of suspended animation, its hearts and hopes turned toward Cookeville, Tenn, where defense counsel was to move today to have the case transferred to a federal court.

While the purpose of this move by the defense is to remove the trial from surroundings which they feel are not calculated to increase the seriousness and dignity of the proceedings, Scopes' counsel base their application for an injunction on the ground that the state of Tennessee, in denying John T. Scopes the right to teach biology, is depriving him of his livelihood without due process of law. The teacher is charged with teaching evolution in violation of a Tennessee statute, which forbids instruction in matters contrary to the letter of the Bible on the subject of creation.

Prepare for Big Event.

The town of Dayton, nestling in the foothills of the Appalachians, has made extensive preparations to stage the trial and receive the hundreds of visitors the case is expected to attract.

The possibility of an injunction means that, what was to be the biggest event in Dayton's history, past, present or future, may be taken away.

If the petitions for an injunction are denied, the trial will start in the Rhea county courthouse here Friday.

100,000 WORKERS IN TRAFFIC JAM

NEW YORK, July 6.—Police reserves were called out today to assist in getting 100,000 workers from Brooklyn to Manhattan after Rapid Transit trains were stopped on the Williamsburg bridge. A giant girder beneath the bridge had been burned off by a short circuit, making the bridge unsafe for trains.

Girl Burned When Train Fuse Blows

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., July 6.—Miss Myrtle Rolls, of San Francisco, was seriously burned and lives of many passengers were endangered today when a fuse blew out on a Northwestern Pacific passenger train, while passing through the Corte Madera tunnel.

The timbers of the tunnel were set afire, but the flames were controlled by fire departments from Corte Madera and other towns.

Miss Rolls was burned when she stepped on the third rail and received painful shocks.

Other terrified passengers were led to safety from the smoke-filled tunnel.

THREE KILLED IN ROADHOUSE SHOOTING FRAY

(By United Press)

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., July 6. Three men are dead and two others are in a serious condition here today as the result of a gun battle in a roadhouse here Sunday night.

The dead are Paul McAllister, deputy game warden; R. R. Bledsoe, deputy constable, of Nueces county, and C. M. Bisbee, constable of Nueces county.

Rufus McMurray, of Three Rivers, who was shot several times, may die, and George Ryder, of San Diego, Calif., shot below the heart, is expected to recover.

Litle information concerning the shooting affray could be had, due to the deaths and serious injuries of the participants. It is believed, however, that Bisbee and his deputy went to the resort with the intention of raiding it and met wtih opposition from the other three men.

Bledsoe and Bisbee have taken part in several shooting affrays recently.

FRENCH ADVISED OF DEBT FUNDING DATE

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The French government, through its embassy here, has asked Secretary of the Treasury Mellon when the American World War Debt Funding commission can conveniently meet with a French debt commission here to discuss funding the $4,000,000,000 French debt to the United States.

Secretary Mellon has replied that the American commission could meet with the French on any date prior to August 5, or after August 16. These dates were fixed, a treasury department spokesman said today, because the Belgin debt fixing commission arrives here July 29 and is expected to begin negotiations August 5, probably continuing throughout two weeks.

U. S. MARINES SAVE OFFICER FROM MOB

LONDON, July 6.—American marines at Shanghai killed the leader of a Chinese mob and rescued a police officer named MacDonald (presumably a Britisher) who had been attacked and beaten by rioters, according to a dispatch to the Daily News.

Leaders of the tram strike at Shanghai have resorted to torture as a means of terrorism, says the Daily News correspondent.

Six tramway workers have been kidnaped, hung up by their hands and severely flogged and then released.

ROUT KRIM FORCES AFTER HARD FIGHT

RABAT, Morocco, July 6.—Violent atacks of Abdel Krim's forces near the upper Lebin river to Rab Taza, (east of Fez) have been completely routed by the French after a "desperate struggle," according to today's official communique on the Moroccan operations. This statement said that the enemy suffered large losses and was likewise thoroughly defeated near Kiffane.

(This battle is apparently part of the Krim drive, resulting from the defection of tribes, which permitted him a beter opening to attack the French lines.)

Italian Town Is Shaken by Quake

ROME, July 6.—A strong earthquake during the night caused ceilings of a number of houses in Belluno to fall and walls of others to crack, but there were no casualties. Belluno is a town of about 7000 inhabitants in the province of Belluno, Italy.

FIVE DROWN AT BEACHES ON WEEK END

Two Brothers and Two Sisters, All of Los Angeles, Lose Lives While Bathing

BOY KILLED BY AUTO

Santa Monica Youth Dies When Boat Upsets; Girl With Him Reaches Shore

FIVE DROWNED, one dead from an automobile accident, two seriously injured when their car went over a bridge, and a number of persons injured in a less degree as the result of automobile collisions, was the toll of the week-end holiday celebration in Orange county, official reports showed today.

In addition to the five known to be dead, the report of the death of an unidentified man near Newport Beach could not be confirmed. The report was to the effect that the stranger had died from injuries inflicted when his automobile crashed into an interurban car. City Marshal J. A. Porter, at Newport Beach, said he had not been notified of the alleged fatal accident. The car was said to have been registered to J. A. Pickford.

Two of the drowned were brothers and two were sisters.

List of Dead

The dead:

THOMAS SANFORD, 19, Los Angeles.

FRANK SANFORD, 16, Los Angeles.

MARGARET MITCHELL, 23, Los Angeles.

HELEN MITCHELL, 19, Los Angeles.

CHARLES PILLON, 19, Santa Monica.

VICTOR ELSKEN, 12, Long Beach.

Seriously injured when a car went over a bridge at Brea:

Ernest Franklin, 48, Los Angeles.

Bernard Franklin, 45, Los Angeles.

City Marshal Jack Tinsley, of Huntington Beach, said he had been able to secure no confirmation of the report emanating from Los Angeles to the effect that Charles Cully, of Los Angeles, had drowned a few moments after the Mitchell girls.

Dies In Rescue Attempt

The Sanford brothers drowned Friday afternoon in the city channel at Newport bay. The family had camped at the city camp grounds for the week end. Frank Sanford, according to reports, was playing on a raft constructed of inflated automobiles tires and boards. Suddenly he fell into the bay. Regardless of the fact that he could not swim, Thomas Sanford, his brother, who was watching from the shore, plunged in to save Frank. Both sank.

The bodies were recovered after Axia Goodykoontz, 18-year-old Newport Beach lifeguard, had dived 12 feet into the water and located them.

Juries at inquests held by Coroner C. D. Brown, at Newport Beach, returned verdicts of accidental death.

The Mitchell sisters were drowned Saturday afternoon at Huntington Beach. Their deaths were especially tragic for their invalid mother. Her two sons were killed in the World war, her husband died a short time later, and the remaining members of her family were snatched from her while they were enjoying the holiday. The mother lives at 3521½ Dayton avenue, Los Angeles.

H. W. Wagner, 23, of Compton, a recent arrival from Arizona, although unable to swim, made a brave effort to effect a rescue and nearly lost his life in the attempt. Wagner was brought to shore in an unconscious condition by Frank DiBeck, 17, Huntington Park.

Lifeguard Far Away

The party, which in addition to the two Mitchell girls included A. W. Bales, was bathing a mile and a half from the nearest life guard. Bathers noticed that the two girls could not get back to shore. Wagner at once went to the rescue, but himself was nearly drowned. Bales, who was swimming nearby, was unable to reach the girls before they disappeared into the sea.

Judge Arthur Keetch, of the superior court, Department 3, Los Angeles, and Charles Warner, of the speedometer firm, played an important part in the recovery of the bodies.

A. H. Tripp, of Los Angeles, a member of the party and escort of the girls, refused to give the names of the girls to newspaper reporters. He tried to get a promise from City Marshal Jack Tinsley, of Huntington Beach, not to give the names to the newspapers. It was not until Tinsley had

PROBE REPORT OF KIDNAPING BY FEUDISTS

(By United Press)

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 6.—Police today investigated the sensational stories of two Tennessee feudists who claim they were kidnaped by five hooded men 10 days ago and chained to trees on Signal mountain.

Badly beaten, on the point of starvation and suffering from blood poisoning, Dr. W. D. Mason, veterinary surgean, and Lawrence Bowman, prohibition agent, were found in a hollow about a mile and a half from the spot where Mason's blood-stained automobile was discovered 10 days ago.

Jim Thomas, mountaineer, and his German police dog found the pair after a futile search by police since their disappearance. The men had been given some food by their captors, but were almost famished when found.

The men said they were called to the mountain June 23 by a telephone message. Reaching the mountain in the darkness, they were overpowered by five hooded men and chained to trees, being removed to a different spot every night.

Police authorities are skeptical of the stories the men told.

Sam Godsey, deputy sheriff and alleged Klan leader, declared the whole thing a frame-up.

"Bowman and Mason had figured if they would make it appear they had been killed, they could pursue their moonshining activities and get rich selling liquor," Godsey said.

WIFE FLEES WITH HUSBAND'S SLAYER

HANFORD, Calif., July 6.—Jack Morgan, 35, was shot and killed at 8 o'clock last night, six miles south of Corcoran in Kings county. His unknown assailant, accompanied by his purported wife and her brother, took everything of value out of the house and fled. A colored man, living nearby, reported that two men drove up in a machine.

Mrs. Morgan came to the door and soon after Morgan joined them. Morgan was shot in the temple by a revolver bullet and was dragged from the road to the ditch bank where he was found by the officers.

The dead man had resided on this ranch about a month and is said to be survived by a widow and child. Coroner Smith will hold an inquest later.

Shell Hidden In Debris Explodes; Man Is Wounded

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Jim Rogers, 28, accidentally shot and seriously wounded himself today when he set fire to a pile of rubbish in his backyard. A shotgun shell, hidden in the rubbish, exploded as the rubbish ignited. Rogers was taken to the hospital, where 50 of the pellets were removed from his body. Although painful, Rogers' injuries will not prove fatal.

200,000 PASS THROUGH S. A. ON HOLIDAYS

Starting Friday Evening, Motor Travel Continues Until Late Sunday Night

THRONGS TO BEACHES

Others of Pleasure-Seeking Multitudes Bound For San Diego District

SANTA ANA awoke Saturday morning July 4, with a "band and boom," as several tired business men, took care of and catered to approximately 200,000 motorists who went through the city during the double holiday expressed it.

Never before in the history of the city has so large a volume of motor travel been recorded. All records were shattered. It was the opinion of traffic experts that more persons went through Orange county, and particularly Santa Ana, Saturday and Sunday than ever before in any two-day period.

Boulevards were crowded to capacity, and it was claimed that more than 100,000 automobiles passed over the roads to San Diego, Laguna Beach, Capistrano, Balboa and other resorts.

Procession to San Diego

The march on San Diego, as usual, the main attraction to holiday crowds and pleasure-seekers, began early Friday afternoon. Before dark of that day, the main highway running through Fullerton, Anaheim and Santa Ana to Capistrano presented a veritable caravan of southbound machines. These cars ranged from expensive limousines to dilapidated flivvers. Light trucks had also been requisitioned to furnish transportation to those who could not obtain anything better. They were loaded with men, women and children who sought San Diego or the beaches as a haven from the heat-swept cities of the inland country.

Many More Than Expected

Orange county, and particularly Santa Ana, is accustomed to handling holiday crowds bound for San Diego or near lying beaches. On former occasions, especially when two holidays came together, its boulevards and thoroughfares have been crowded with motorists. Realizing this, plans were laid by local hotel men, restaurant keepers, operators of garages and service stations, to accommodate the holiday travelers. But they came even more thickly than estimated in advance.

The city's leading hotels began filling up Friday night with tired motorists who found the traffic a little too much for their nerves. St. Ann's Inn, Hotel Santa Ana, the Rossmore, and the Finley hotel were forced to turn away scores of persons seeking accommodations. While the clerks at these hotels had to close the register, they busied themselves finding accommodations for applicants elsewhere. In these efforts they were assisted by city police officers, whose services in these respects were made the subject of much favorable comment among out-of-town visitors. Saturday night every hostelry, apartment house and rooming house in the city was filled with tired travelers.

Autos Fill Garages

Garages were packed with visiting cars and many had to be parked for the night in the streets. For the first time since he has been in the business, the owner of one auto service station, was forced to close his doors against the inrush of cars seeking parking space.

Restaurants did a land office business. Most of them had laid in a big supply of foodstuffs in anticipation of the rush, but even at that, now and then rush calls had to be sent to dairies and other dealers for additional supply. Eating places along Main street, kept open all Friday night and Saturday, feeding an endless stream of people as soon as they could be served. Extra help was employed at these places and cooks were sent from Los Angeles to tide over the rush.

In keeping with the general run of things, was the volume of business handled by the stage lines. The Motor Transit and the Pickwick stages were operating a continuous schedule on the Los Angeles-San Diego line. To supply the demand for equipment, local busses, used on the short lines between Orange county points and Los Angeles, were pressed into service for the San Diego run.

New Records Made

New records for traffic through Santa Ana and Orange county were established over the holiday and week-end, in the opinion of Sheriff Sam Jernigan. He commented on the fact that the majortiy of the drivers seemed to be exercising extra care and that

Dismiss Charge Of Beating Son

PASADENA, July 6.—Frank Ware was arraigned in police court today on a charge of disturbing the peace by beating his son, Stewart, 16, with a strap. The charges were dismissed, but Ware was fined $25 on another charge of carrying concealed weapons. Police were called recently, when Ware beat his boy after taking him out of a dance hall, where he had forbidden him to go. Neighbors turned in a riot call.

Tailor Arrested On Arson Charge

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Anthony de Grandis, tailor, was arrested on a charge of suspicion of arson today, following a fire in his dry cleaning establishment.

Firemen fighting the blaze were imperiled by an exploding can of gasoline in front of the shop. Another can of gasoline exploded in the rear.

When the tailor appeared on the scene he was taken into custody. Damage was slight.

OLD FOLKS' VIEWS WON'T COUNT IN DISCUSSION OF MODERN MORAL ATTITUDES

PORTLAND, Ore., July 6.—Just where to draw the line of Christianity in the matter of amusements is the problem which thousands of young persons gathered here for the International Christian Endeavor convention set about to solve today.

Sunday sports, dancing, petting parties, bathing suits and card playing will be held up for scrutiny at a mass meeting this afternoon.

What the old folks think will not count, as everyone more than 30 years of age will be excluded from the meeting.

Here is a list of some of the questions that will occupy the young people's minds:

Is it necessary to be a Fundamentalist to be a Christian?

Does dancing indicate a serious defect in moral fibre?

Is it immodest and unwomanly for a young girl to appear in public in a one-piece bathing suit?

Should Sunday be used for playing golf and taking part in other sports?

Can a Christian Endeavor girl wear rolled stockings and use lip-stick?

What can be done to curb the use of cigarets by young men and women?

DEATH FAILS TO CALL HALT IN WATER SUIT

Death today failed to halt progress of the El Capitan condemnation contest between the city of San Diego and the La Mesa irrigation district.

With the jury dismissed for the day, because of the demise of Juror G. J. Gibson's father, the litigants whiled away the time with arguments, a favorite indulgence of the attorneys connected with the case.

Although Judge Marvin Conkling gave a ruling Friday denying the motion by irrigation district counsel that the city be ordered to amnd its complaint, and exclude condemnation of acreage above the proposed water line of El Capitan reservoir, today was spent in arguing the question. The court allowed defense counsel opportunity to present their contentions in the absence of the jury, with the possibility of another ruling being made.

Thomas King, engineer for La Mesa district, testified that, in his opinion, the city needed only a strip of 100 feet of land above the 150-foot water line of the proposed reservoir. This, he said, would serve for patrol purposes and give adequate sanitary protection. The boundaries of the tract, as at present constituted, rise in some places 500 feet above the water line. The city is vigorously opposing the suggested amendment.

Under cross-examination today, King said that cabins built 120 feet above the water line would in no way andanger the water supply. If he was in charge of the San Diego health department, King said, he still would testify that a strip 100 feet wide would be sufficient.

ISSUE TICKET BOOK FOR P. E. BUS LINE

To effect a small saving for regular bus patrons, and at the same time save time and annoyance in making change when boarding busses, is the purpose of a new 15-ride book issued by the Pacific Electric for use on its bus lines within the city limits, according to an announcement by E. T. Battey, local agent of the company.

The 15-ride book, the use of which began Saturday, sells for $1, and can be purchased from the operators of the busses or at the ticket window of the Pacific Electric, corner of Main and Fourth streets.

In addition to saving customers 5 cents on the dollar, the use of the new book will go far to save time for conductors, not to mention annoyance incidental to changing money to pay a 7-cent fare, the new single fare rate on the local bus lines, it was explained by the local agent.

200 PYTHIANS OF SOUTHLAND MEET

Two hundred members of the Knights of Pythias order from all parts of the Southland attended the sunrise convention held in Brea canyon Saturday morning, at 5 o'clock. Six candidates, all of Santa Ana, received the Knight rank degree.

The degree work was performed by a picked team from the lodges comprising district No. 31. Those receiving the degree were C. W. Latson, L. J. Paul, Arley G. Gowman, Ralph H. Livenspire, George Millnerr and V. G. Shidler.

Among the leading Pythians present were Fred Jones, Los Angeles, grand vice chancellor, and Dr. C. W. Jardis, Brea district deputy grand chancellor.

Twenty-eight California lodges and four eastern lodges were represented at the big gathering.

Breakfast was served at the conclusion of the ceremonies, which were pronounced the most impressive ever held in Southern California.

Edward W. Cochems, chancellor commander of Santa Ana lodge, says that a picnic in Orange County park probably will be the next event sponsored by the district. A business meeting will be held in Anaheim July 10, at 7:30 o'clock.

Walmsley Leonard, of the Laguna Beach art colony, was in jail today in preference to telling his wife's secret.

At some hidden place, Eva J. Leonard, the wife, is keeping her little daughter, Virginia Valentine Jones, 7, who legally belong to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilton Jones, of New Orleans. Having consented to adoption of the child by her parents, Mrs. Leonard repented and was alleged to have kidnaped the little girl.

Leonard, who is step-father of litle Virginia, refuses to tell where the child is hidden.

He refused when haled before Superior Judge E. J. Marks Friday on a writ of habeas corpus, issued to the grandparents.

"I'd rather go to jail than tell," he said.

"That's where you'll go," retorted Judge Marks, and that's where Leonard went.

The sentence, given for contempt of court, is of the day-to-day variety. Leonard may be brought back before the court today, it was said, and offered a chance to give the desired information in exchange for liberty.

CROWD HEARS INDEPENDENCE DAY ADDRESS

Business and social life of Santa Ana had returned to normal today, following the double holiday of the Fourth of July and Sunday. Few Santa Anans who could get away Saturday remained at home, and a good percentage of those who did stay at home joined with the G. A. R. and auxiliaries in observance of the day in a basket picnic and exercises at Birch Park.

It was estimated that 600 persons were present at the park when the program was rendered at 2 p. m., and that approximately 300 ate lunch in the park at the noon hour.

A fife and drum corps stirred and thrilled the veterans with their music, the corps presenting a program at 11 a. m., and following the lunch hour.

"The Simple Meaning of American Citizenship," was the subject chosen by the Rev. William E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, for his discourse at the patriotic exercises in the afternoon.

Nation of Grumblers

Declaring that this is a nation of grumblers, the pastor pointed out a number of reasons why an American has reason to be proud, happy and cheerful, rather than a grumbler.

Security, political equality, universal education, economic opportunity, progressive improvement and religious liberty, he mentioned as some of the reasons.

In discussing progressive improvements, the speaker declared that the rights of Americans are increasing and not diminishing.

Pointing out that American citizenship is a matter of responsibility as well as rights, the Rev. Mr. Roberts said that a citizen should stand ready to give his life in time of war.

Sacrifice During War

"I think one of the purposes of Defense day is to impress upon us all, citizens as well as soldiers, the necessity for our personal sacrifice in case of war," the minister said. "We have too long regarded that as the office of the young fellow under arms. I believe that one sure way to stop war is to make us all feel our part. The idea of conscription of everyone and everything is not attractive, but it is more just than permitting certain ones to make profit of others' hardships.

"In time of peace, it is the responsibility of the good American to observe, protect and perpetuate the institutions of the nation. National decay sets in when the deeds of the heroes of former days are lauded but not emulated. The patriotisms of peace are sometimes harder than those of war—and they are no less important. Too many people feel their obligations to patriotism are fulfilled when war is over—frequently that is just the beginning of higher duties.

Lawlessness Is Flayed

"No man who, by his attitude and actions, holds the law of his country in contempt has a right to call himself 100 per cent American. The breaking of one law makes a temptatiton to break another. If I have a right to violate a law I think is wrong, my neighbor has a right to break another that he thinks is wrong. Lawlessness is the greatest foe to liberty, for it opens the way to unbridled license. My responsibility is to preserve the liberties of the nation. I cannot do so unless I uphold the laws of the land."

The Rev. H. G. Burgess, pastor of the Richland Avenue Methodist church, was program chairman, the program consisting of addresses, readings, solos, duets and community singing. The Declaration of Independence was read by Mrs. George Huntington, and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by F. M. Grigsby, chaplain of Sedgwick post No. 17, G. A. R. "The Battle of Gettysburg" was recited by Miss Etta Hales. Mrs. Harry L. Skiles was accompanist for the various musical numbers on the program.

No work is being done in the cannery at present, but work will begin on a shipment of apricots from Watsonville, he said. Most of the apricots for local canning will be shipped here from that district. More than 100 persons are employed when the cannery is in operation. Peaches, coming largely from the San Joaquin valley, will be the next fruit to be canned.

Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

BE IN THE SWIM

Bathing is the custom, but swimming is the fashion. "Rock'd in the cradle of the deep," it would be a bit of a task "in peace to sleep," for the new zebra-striped swimming suits are loud enough to wake all Davy Jones' Locker. Such suits consist of a shirt made of worsted or knitted wool with broad black-and-white stripes, navy-of fashion? Besides the three-quarter length robe, there is the new alf-length style made with a wide collar and peaked lapels. It may fasten with a girdle or pearl buttons. It is usually double-breasted.

Aside from its undoubted usefulness in warding off sunburn, the and-white and so on. The trunks are blue, gray or white flannel, sometimes decorated with military tape or braid down the sides. The narrow shoulder straps, the deep-cut neck opening and the low-swung armholes make this a topping outfit for the seasoned swimmer. In these days the veriest hobble-de-hoy of a boy dives like a dolphin and swims like a seal. Yes, even so humdrum an article as soap floats. Hence, much closer attention is being paid to swimming suits and to their big, little accessories, from skull-cap to sandal.

In addition to a comfortable, practical suit, the swimmer requires a light beach robe to slip into after his dip. This may be Turkish toweling or Terry cloth or light, absorbent flannel. A revealing swimming suit and a concealing beach wrap are a contradictory combination, but, then, who shall unravel the riddle beach robe has a smart look about it that athletic youngsters find most engaging. Furthermore, it is obligatory upon some beaches. rightly striped swimming belts are supplanting the old-fashioned nes of white canvas with non-rusting nickel buckle. The new belts add a bold and welcome dash of color to the swimming suit, giving it character and "cheerio".

Just as a comb with three teeth may be termed a comb, so any sort of bathing suit may be called a swimming suit. The Well-Dressed Man pays as much heed to such clothes as all others he wears. One's swimming suit should fit, which means making sure of the proper size. It should be pure wool or worsted, never cotton r a cotton mixture, so that it will shrink and, thus, lose its lines after a few wettings. It should be carefully dried, afred and smoothed after use.

Turtle Lake, Wisconsin. — "I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness, backache and nervousness. I had these troubles for years and had taken other medicines for them, but I have found no medicine so good as the Vegetable Compound and I recommend it to my friends who have troubles similar to mine. I saw it advertised and thought I would try it and it has helped me in all my troubles. I have had six children and I have taken the Lydia E. Young People Choose Patriotic Holiday For Wedding

An interesting event of the patriotic holiday was a morning wedding at the Fred Price home, 815 Lacy street where Mrs. Price's niece, Miss Flossye May Morrisor, became the bride of Ted R. Faulkener at a 10 o'clock ceremony.

Dahlias and roses, arranged in artistic profusion, offered a pleasing floral background for the ceremony at which the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church, officiated. Miss Morrison was charmingly girlish in her chosen bridal costume, a smart little ensemble of orange and black. There were no attendants and the utmost simplicity prevailed in the services, which were followed by a gay little period of congratulations and good wishes extended the young Mr. and Mrs. Faulkener.

At an informal breakfast following the nuptials, the bride made a pretty ceremony of cutting the wedding cake ere she and Mr. Faulkner took their departure for the Big Basin and San Francisco where the honeymoon is now being spent.

Guests bidden to the wedding were only the near relatives and included in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Price, the hosts, Mr. Frank Morrison, father of the bride; Mrs. Faulkener, the groom's mother; Miss Hazel Morrison, Otis Faulkener, and Mrs. Thelma Price Barnard.

Mr. and Mrs. Faulkener will be gone about two weeks, but after July 15 will be established in their pretty new home in Country Club Gardens which is all furnished and in readiness for their occupancy.

The association was incorporated in March, 1923, according to Mather, and since that time has loaned over a quarter million dollars on local homes. He said that dividends have been declared regularly since the business first was opened. The association is locally owned and controlled, all the directors except one being residents of Santa Ana.

The rooms are to be leased from L. D. Mercereau, the owner of the new building. The present location of the association, at 111 west Third street, has been its home since incorporation.

Musical Club Holds Final Meeting of Current Season

Completing a year of delightful associations, the Ellis Rhodes club held its final meeting last Wednesday night at the Angeles Hotel roof garden in Anaheim where the Misses Christina Berghofer, Lois Rees and Alice Humphrey and Messrs. Glenn Merrill and Victor Rees entertained at a musicale soiree.

A formal program had been arranged, with Verdi's opera, Il Trovatore" as the theme. Mr. Rhodes, incentive for the club, and honored by the members who chose to give it his name, read the synopsis of the opera and musical numbers were inserted to follow the sequence of the story.

"Manrico" was sung by A. J. Garroway while Reginald Taylor sang the part of "Count di Luna," Sally Lee Scales, that of "Leonora" and Glen Merril, that of "Ruiz." Holly Lash Visel very beautifully sang "Home to Our Mountains." Mrs. C. A. McCulloch of Anaheim served as accompanist to the singers.

Following the operatic numbers was an interval of dancing for which Stillwell's orchestra furnished a delightful program. At midnight an extremely enjoyable two-course chicken supper was served. Several interesting and inspiring talks were given at the supper hour, Mr. Rhodes and Mrs. McCulloch being especially happy in their remarks. Plans for next year's clubwork were outlined and it was disclosed that arrangements are being made whereby the club will have the opportunity of hearing various guest artists during the year.

About fifty club members were present to share in the pleasure of the evening, Santa Ana, Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange and Los Angeles all being represented in the guest list.

Court Whist Offers Friendly Evening At Roehm Home

His twenty-fourth birthday was recalled in pleasant fashion to Lory Roehm last week when Mrs. Roehm called together a little group of congenial folk to help celebrate the event at their South Sycamore street home.

Softly tinted gladioli from the garden of Henry Wright, who is noted for the fineness and beauty of his gladiolus blooms, decked the home, the flower being Mr. Wright's contribution to the party. Mrs. Roehm had plans perfected for an evening of court whist in which she awarded prizes by totalling scores of husbands and wives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ersie Burns took first honors, with Mr. and Mrs. George Faul jr. second and Mr. and Mrs. Jack May, low. Attractive gifts were presented to each couple. Card tables were then arranged for serving refreshments, and were centered with dainty nut-baskets in tints to harmonize with the gladiolus decorations. A two-course menu of chicken salad, ices, cake coffee and other dainties, was served, including a delectable birthday cake baked and presented Mr. Roehm by Mrs. M. E. Jones of El Modena.

Enjoying the event with the hosts were Messrs. and Mesdames Cornish Roehm, bearing the distinction of being the newly-weds of the group; Ersie Burns, George Faul jr., Jack May of Costa Mesa, M. E. Jones; Tom Smith, William McConnel, H. B. Wright, Rex Hastings of Fullerton; Miss Gladys Smith and John Sylvester.

One of the interesting pre-holiday musical events was a recital of last Thursday when Mrs. L. K. Sutherland presented a group of piano pupils at the home of Mrs. F. B. Smith, 609 East Fifth street. The young pianists were assisted by the Misses Ida and Julia Jacobson of Tulsa, Okla., by the Misses Claribel Thompson and Dorothy Lutz, violin pupils of Elwood Bear, and by Miss May Maag in readings.

The rooms presented a beautiful appearance with quantities of vari- colored dahlias used in decoration together with great clusters of pink carnations which were later presented to the guests. At the close of the enjoyable program, ice cream, cake and punch were served the guests.

Special numbers given by those assisting included violin obbligatos played by Miss Thompson, whistling solos, "Memory Lane" and "Blue Bird" by Miss Lola Melton; readings, "Sauer Kraut" and "the New Baby" by Miss May Maag, and several violin-piano numbers with Miss Claribel Thompson and Miss Dorothy Lutz alternating as violinists.

The opening number was "The Swiss Music Box" (Morse) played by six-year-old Fanny Jacobson who for an encore, sang the dainty little "Nursery Rhymes." Miss Alice Jacoson blayed and Miss May Maag sang a little French song, "Le Renard at le Loup" repeating the song in English. Others taking part were Miss Dorothy Jardine, Miss Ida Jacobson, Miss Isabel Jardine, Miss Esther Jacobson, Miss Rachel Smtih, Miss Adele Lutz and Miss Julia Jacobson.

Distinguished Seaman And His Wife Are Dinner Guests

Among holiday guests in the city, none have been more interesting than Captain D. E. Theleen, commander of the U. S. S. New York which brought the midshipmen from the Naval Academy at Annapolis around to Pacific waters.

Captain Theleen is stationed with his ship in the harbor at Wilmington, and Mrs. Theleen is the house-guest of Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. I. F. Landis at their home, 613 West First street during her husband's stay on the coast. The two naval officers are happily renewing a friendship formed when they were classmates at the Naval Academy and cemetend during much sea duty together in subsequent days.

On the eve of the Fourth, the distinguished easterners were entertained at dinner at the C. W. Ellis home at 602 South Birch street where Mrs. Ellis was gracious hostess to an intimate little group composed of Captain and Mrs. Theleen, Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Landis, Miss Jean Tillery, who quite recently returned from a year in Honolulu, Ralph Cochrun and Miss Marjorie Ellis, daughter of the home.

Delicately tinted pink Maman Cochet roses graced the table where guest schatted in gay friendliness over the course dinner. During the evening which followed, a radio program was enjoyed although chief interest centered in the captain's account of his voyage with the midshipmen, his first Pacific trip for a number of years.

On Tuesday of last week, Mrs. Ellis and Miss Ellis joined Lieutenant-Commander and Mrs. Landis as luncheon guests of Captain Theleen aboard the New York.

Pretty Shower Given As Surprise For Bride-elect

Complimenting a prospective bride, was a pretty party given last week by Mrs. William Blume at her home, 736 Eastwood avenue, with her sister, Miss Wilma Schultz as honor guest. Miss Schultz recently announced her engagement to Vernon Cox of Yuba City and the betrothal of the two young people was incentive for the gay party.

The entire evening was planned as a surprise to the honoree who was asked to the home of another sister, Mrs. Paul Ladiges, for dinner. During her absence, the Blume home was made a gay spot indeed with a profusion of wedding bells, pink hearts and garlands together with quantities of flowers. The pretty sight and the assembled guests offered a pleasurable surprise indeed to Miss Schultz upon her return.

Games and contests appropriate to the occasion were introduced and during the course of the evening countless pretty and useful gifts were heaped upon the honoree whose wedding to Mr. Cox will be an event of the near future. Refreshment of ice cream, cake and fruit punch were an enjoyable feature.

Sharing Mrs. Blume's hospitality were Mesdames G. C. Cox, W. C. Schultz, P. W. Ladiges, H. Blanken, G. Hasenyager, W. F. Schultz, A. D. Jones, the Misses Ruffina Grochow, Lillie Schultz, Helen Schoenberg, Muriel Kuhl, Doreen Cox, Irene Schultz, Dolly Cox, and the honor guest, Miss Hilda Schultz.

The Mitchells Open Mountain Cabin

Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Mitchell found the Glorious Fourth a suitable time to dedicate their attractive new mountain cabin at Camp Angeles and did so by asking a congenial guest group to experience their hospitality and the charm of the new home over the holiday week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cannon, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. McCarter and Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Napier together with several young people, Loren Cannon, Miss Frances McCarter, Miss Lillian Napier, Louis Napier and David Evans formed the group to be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell and the Misses Veda and Eleanor Mitchell.

They found the cabin an attractive, five-room affair in the midst of lovely surroundings reached by negotiating the first control of the Big Bear road. Camp Angeles is rapidly becoming one of the most favored spots in the San Bernardino mountains and on Saturday the new Glen Martin camp nearby, was opened with a big barbecue dinner served to exactly 998 persons, fourteen of whom were the Santa Ana group.

Hiking, dancing and the usual mountain sports added their charm to the outing and the group reached home last night enthusiastic about the new Mitchell cabin and the famous Mitchell hospitality.

ORPHEUM ACTS FOR WALKER'S HERE TONIGHT

The first five-act program of Orpheum circuit vaudeville will be presented at Walker's theater here tonight.

Heading this program is the Wm. Gaxton company, offering a novel one-act play, entitled "Kisses." That well-known author and playwright S. J. Kaufman is responsible for "Kisses" and other popular vaudeville playlets, which has rightfully given him the appellation of American Schnitzler.

"Kisses" is a vehicle which possesses distinction and high artistry in its style and ideas. This skit has received the unqualified plaudits of critics everywhere and is certain to make itself highly popular here.

The other acts include the golf wizard, Jack Redmond and company. Everybody who has played golf and nearly everybody does, has heard of Jack Redmond. His act is titled "On the Links."

Direct from the Princess Cabaret and the music halls of London is Del Chain and Lou Archer offering a pleasing act titled, "Oh I Did Not." The important part of this act is its fun. Chain and Archer have filled "Oh I Did Not" with good healthy wholesome comedy.

The Six Hassons, Arabians by birth, are said to present in their act entitled "Whirlwind Wizards" the most notable examples of speed in whirling, tumbling and human pyramid building. Their presentation has always been a highly popular feature in all Orpheum key centers.

Completing the vaudeville section is that grotesque and elongated comedy pantomime actor, Jack Hanley, known by every Orpheum devotee as one of the most popular headliners. His act is titled "Making the World Safe for Hokum."

In addition to this gigantic and sensational program of vaudeville Manager Walker announces that he has procured the Pacific Coast showing of "Lilies of the Street" a photoplay based on the actual life experiences of Mrs. Mary E. Hamilton, New York's first and famous policewoman. The film is a sensational revelation and a most daring expose of modern life and its criminal dangers according to critics who have viewed this cinematic masterpiece with unusual pleasure. Numbered prominently in the cast are Johnny Walker and irginia Lee Corbin and others of note.

With the inception of this new policy, Walker further announces that the management has contracted for Kenneth's Howells "Metropolitan Six," a nationally famed symphonic organization, which comes to Santa Ana fully prepared to give theater-goers a decided and unusual treat of so-called classical jazz.

"ANY WOMAN" CLOSES RUN AT YOST TONIGHT

Believe it or not—beauty is a handicap to a girl who has to earn her own living. If you are inclined to be skeptical about this, drop into the Yost theater. "Any Woman," the new picture now on view there, convincingly and entertainly shows what happens when a girl, who possesses a super-abundance of good looks, tries to win business success through sheer merit and ability.

Here is a photoplay that hits the bulls-eye of entertainment because it appeals to the eye, the heart and the mind. The inspired acting of Alice Terry, who plays the featured role; the deft direction of Henry King, who has staged the production with characteristic lavishness; and the unforgettable story, which Arthur Somers Roche contributed and Beatrice Van with Jules Furthman adapted, all combine to make "Any Woman" one of the most worth-while of the current season's films.

"MY WIFE AND I" AT YOST TOMORROW

Now and then it happens—but not too often. We mean, when a father and his son both find themselves merciless rivals for the hands of the same woman.

This is the theme of "My Wife and I," the picture scheduled for a run of two days at the Yost theater beginnig tomorrow. Betty Allen, a beautiful gold-digger is working young Stuart for all he is worth, when the father steps in and puts a stop to the affair. But in doing so he himself becomes infatuated. And the wife has the oppressively difficult task of steering both her husband and son clear of the siren's charms.

Irene Rich has the starring role as the mother, and she is ably supported by Huntly Gordon, John Roche, Constance Bennett, John Harron, Tom Ricketts and Claire de Lorez.

"BEGGAR ON HORSEBACK" AT WEST END

"Beggar on Horseback" current attraction at the West End theater, is the kind of picture that'll make you want to stand right up and let out a whoop of joy. Remember the dream sequence James Cruze injected into his picture "Hollywood?" Remember the laughs in those scenes. This picture has similar scenes, which, however, make that earlier Cruze production look like heavy drama by comparison.

If you've ever had a dream in your life, you'll recognize it in "Beggar on Horseback," which has to do with Neil McRae, a struggling young composer, who has his heart set on finishing a symphony, but who has to write orchestrations to keep from being thrown out into the street. Edward Everett Horton plays this role, and Esther Ralson, remembered as the mother in "Peter Pan," is his across-the-hall sweetheart, equally poor and struggling equally as hard to make good. She is in love with McRae, who is too wrapped up in his work to notice anything or anyone.

As the result of a dose of sleeping powders given him by his doctor friend, McRae dozes off and has a dream of dreams—a dream which proved a veritable nightmare of laughs for audiences at the West End yesterday. A shimmy-mad rich girl is introduced into the story with disastrous results—disastrous for McRae, who proposes to her on his doctor's say so and spends the rest of the picture trying to squirm out of the engagement. Things pan out right for everyone in the end, of course.

BARNETTE PLAYERS OPEN IN NEW PLAY.

A good sized crowd of representative persons thoroughly enjoyed the opening performance of "The Girl in the Case," a mystery farce by the Barnette Players at McBars Suburban Playhouse at the end of North Main street, last night.

The play is a rapid fire comedy which brought many hearty laughs, a few thrills, and at times kept the audience guessing as to what was coming next. The players seemed exceptionally well suited to their parts.

"The Girl in the Case" will run seven nights. Such good ones as "The Endless Chain," "Enter Mary Jones," "Promoting Peter," "The Grouch," "Easy Street" and "Our Wives" which will be offered during the coming weeks.

RAZOR MAGNATE IS REPORTED IN MESA OIL FIELD

NEWPORT BEACH, July 6.—A well-defined rumor that King C. Gillette, the safety razor magnate, has entered the Costa Mesa oil field and purchased the holdings of the Winchester Oil company, is given credence by the fact that this concern has started its second well in the eastern end of the field between Nineteenth and Twentieth streets. This region is in the same area as the Sharkey oil mine and about a mile north of it.

The Winchester company, which has been regarded as the mystery concern of the Mesa, already has one well down about 3000 feet, it was stated. It has been impossible to get any information from officers of the company. Their second well is drilling at 400 feet.

A. T. Jergins No. 1, on a five-acre lease at Eighteenth and Pomona, is down about 425 feet, but has stopped drilling for the past few days, although the crew is still on the job, it was reported today.

Interstate No. 1, at the end of Seventeenth street, started pumping today with less water than it has had for some time, it was stated, and is doing about forty barrels. Insterstate No. 2 is still having water trouble.

Rosenburg No. 1, adjoining the Interstate, is still having water trouble. A test made several days ago, that of putting a red dye in Interstate No. 2 and in their own well, to see where the water comes from, is still undetermined, as no red has showed thus far and the men are puzzled as to where it has gone. Rosenburg No. 2 on the Rountree lease is down 1500 feet.

The Nelson Drilling company on the Wiseman lease, just off of Seventeenth street, cemented off at 600 feet, got water, and then started going deeper.

The C. C. Julian company, on the Costa Mesa Terrace lease, about a half mile opposite the Wiseman lease, has hauled material on the ground and has been getting the ground in shape for a rig.

The Sharkey mine is still shut down, the bottom of the tunnel being covered with asphaltum to a depth of about six feet. It was stated that work would resume shortly.

In the West Newport area steady pumping continues with the six Yerkes wells, while a seventh well is drilling at 1000 feet.

The large refinery being completed by the Delaney Oil company near Forty-fourth street will begin actual operations today or Tuesday. A test made Thursday at which J. S. Tremayne, president of the Continental Development and Refining company, with other officials of the refinery unit, were present, was entirely successful, and that the refinery will start with a capacity of 250 barrels daily. Five wells are on the pump on this lease with all the tanks full waiting for the refinery.

The DeKay community lease near Thirtieth street, which has been tied up with labor troubles, is reported to be ready to go ahead, the statement being made that work will resume early in the week.

Orange Man Takes Bride of El Monte

ORANGE, July 6.—M. M. Sorenson, plant superintendent of the Orange Ice and Cold Storage company, and Mrs. Nellie Asher, the charming daughter of J. A. McGirk, one of the early pioneers of El Monte, were united in marriage by the Rev. C. B. Dalton at the First Methodist church.

The ceremony was witnessed by Mrs. G. Lovejoy of Eagle Rock and Mrs. P. J. Sheridan of El Monte, close friends of the bride.

Amid a shower of rice and good wishes, the happy couple motored to Del Mar. They will take an extensive honeymoon trip later this summer.

At present the young couple are at home to their friends in the Marx Apartment on North Olive street.

TRAFFIC ROW TO BE SETTLED BY CITY BOARD

NEWPORT BEACH, July 6.—Action on the charge that traffic was diverted from Balboa on the day of the bathing girls' parade will be taken up tonight at the regular meeting of the board of trustees.

The meeting has been set for 7:30 o'clock in the city hall. Principal interest centers in the result of the traffic complaint.

Informal hearing of the charges was held at a special meeting of the city council last Tuesday when heated argument developed over the question.

Along with other business to be considered, bids for the franchise to operate a fishing barge off the Balboa pier will be opened. The lease will be granted to the party offering the largest percentage of the receipts to the city.

DANCING

Lazette Gamel, "Miss Santa Ana Register," was awarded second prize as the most beautiful girl in Orange county. Dorothy Mayhew, "Miss Santa Ana," was judged the third most beautiful girl in the county.

Say 60,000 People Attended

More than 60,000 people viewed the parade. Cash prizes were presented to the winners at the band stand at the conclusion of the parade. The parade was lead by the Huntington Beach Municipal band.

Miss Clarice Higgins of Huntington Beach was judged to be the fourth most beautiful girl in Orange county. Judges selected her as the most beautiful non-winner.

Miss Frances Lichty, Fullerton, was awarded first prize for the most beautiful face. Marie Messenger, winner of the recent parade at Balboa was second, and Catherine Avis, Santa Ana, was third.

Carrie G. Allen, a Huntington Beach girl, wore the most beautiful bathing suit. Kathryn Daar, Fullerton, had the second prettiest suit. Ted Mitchell, Huntington Beach, was third in the suit division.

Violette Robertson, Huntington Beach, was judged the most perfectly formed girl in the parade. Agnes Gisler, Huntington Beach, was second, and Martha Manning, Orange; third.

Every girl entering the parade was presented with a cash or merchandise prize valued at five dollars. A special prize was given to Miss Lucille Ogden, six-year-old girl swimmer of this city.

Judges of the girls were a number of vaudeville stars from one of the large vaudeville circuits in Los Angeles. The parade started at 2 p. m. from the Antlers club. A short march to the judges stand, a trip down Main street to the pier and a march across the municipal band stand on the beach was the course taken by the parade.

With more than 4000 Woodmen of the World in Huntington Beach over the week end and thousands of people from Los Angeles and other places in the municipal auto camp and on the beach, local police estimated that more people were in this city Saturday and Sunday than ever before on a week end holiday.

The local chamber of commerce, working with the Woodmen of the World, made every effort to present a unique and varied program. Clowns and comedians were on the streets Saturday and Sunday.

More than 12 special traffic officers were on duty.

The young couple stood under an arch made of ferns, with a large wedding bell hanging from the center of the arch. The rooms were beautifully decorated in pink and white flowers.

35-TON SCHOONER IS HELD ON SAND AT COUNTY PORT; USE EXPLOSIVE TO MOVE IT

BALBOA, July 6.—On the sand bar at the entrance of Orange County harbor, the 35-ton schooner, "The Muriel," after four days battering by the breakers, was today abandoned as useless except for dynamiting in a movie scene.

Last Friday morning the big ship floundered on the treacherous bar while being towed to sea for mooring off the Balboa pier as a fishing barge. Efforts to free her proved unsuccessful.

"The Muriel" was owned by R. J. Shafer of Newport Beach. Purchase of the schooner was made two weeks ago when Shafer had under consideration adapting her for a fishing barge.

The ship was valued at $5,000.

Hope for floating her was despaired when the waves carried away the rudder and pounded in the planking of the keel. Though in no danger of sinking in the stranded position on the sand bar, the ship is considered a menace to navigation through the harbor entrance.

Heroism was displayed by men who tried to save the floundered vessel. Harry Webb of Balboa, while endeavoring to reach the snapped tow line, was capsized in a light skiff and was pulled from the surf exhausted.

The three members of the crew aboard "The Muriel" left the ship Friday afternoon. These men were Roy Shafer, master; H. L. Andrews, and Fred Beck. They stripped their clothing and made shore with the aid of life preservers.

Work began today for removing material from the ship preparatory to the blowing up. Progress was being hastened to eliminate the danger to harbor shipping.

Overtures are to be made to motion picture companies for taking a scene of the destruction of the vessel, it was indicated. By a significant fate, the ship was previously used for the filming of several pictures about the harbor.

Actual grounding of the ship is said to have been due to a ground swell. While being taken out of the narrow mouth of the harbor, heavy waves mercilessly pitched the boat on the bar.

The tug Newport had "The Muriel" in tow. A disastrous swell caught the schooner, snapping the tow line and casting the ship high on the bar. Attempts by a red stack tub from San Pedro to free her were of no avail and the continual pounding of the ocean made sure the destruction.

Erect Bulkhead At Balboa to Protect Shore

BALBOA, July 6.—For a distance of a third of a mile along the ocean front on the peninsula point here a bulkhead has been erected to protect the shore line of the Blakenhorn Realty company property.

The construction stands three feet high and extends for 1620 feet between G street and M street. Completion of the bulkhead will be accomplished soon, according to A. J. Twist, resident manager.

In addition to providing a buffer for high waves the bulkhead is intended to be used to support standards of life preservers placed at the intersection of each street.

Sand finish resembling concrete is to be used in painting the bulk head. At intervals along the stretch, steps are to be installed from the board walk adjoining the platform.

Santa Ana Soldiers Are In Good Spirits As They Start War Work

Safe arrival of Company F, 160th Infantry, National Guard, at camp at Del Monte Saturday morning was announced in telegrams received here today by relatives of the men who constitute the company.

The National Guard members left here Friday afternoon for Los Angeles, where they joined other companies for the trip to the camp. The boys are in good spirits and are looking forward to their 15-day stay with great pleasure, the messages state. This week will be given over to preliminary training, with next week devoted to maneuvers and hikes.

Three thousand men are in the camp, which is in charge of Col. Walter P. Story, of Los Angeles. The officers of the local company are Capt. Harry Prichard, First Lt. Donald Winans and Second Lt. C. J. Watters.

As the result of contributions to the company's mess fund, the boys will be enabled to enjoy some of the good things which the state does not provide. These include pie, cake, jam and other delicacies.

Persons writing to the camp should include the company name and the words "National Guard Encampment" on the envelope, it is stated.

Heavy Punishment For Violators Of State Fire Laws

Six months' imprisonment, a $500 fine, or both, are the penalties for throwing lighted cigarettes, cigars, burning matches, pipe ashes or similar dangerous fire menaces in the forest reserves under the new state law, enacted by the last legislature.

While the new provision will not be a law until July 24, motorists are warned that the danger of fire in California forests already is present. Caution in handling matches is being urged especially upon autoists by the Automobile Club of Southern California, state and county forestry departments and other organizations.

No fires should be kindled in the forests without permission and the greatest care should be exercised in being sure any flames are wholly extinguished, it is urged. Water or dirt, or both, should be poured on the fire to prevent its igniting surrounding brush. The most frequent cause of forest fires has been lighted cigarettes, cigars or matches thrown from moving vehicles.

Were Chums But Mutual Sweetie Out of Question

The privilege of walking along the street with his chum's "best girl," cost R. D. Goetz, of Delhi, the friendship of G. A. Heither, the chum, and landed him in the county jail for a term of four months, it developed in local justice court, where Goetz was sentenced for disturbing the peace.

It was really Heither who disturbed the peace, according to Goetz. Goetz claimed thah his chum met him and Heither's "sweetie" on the street in Balboa and, without a word, attacked Goetz. Goetz claimed that his Heither down when arrested, he said.

The jury disbelieved him or else thought he should be punished for stealing Heither's girl, as a verdict of guilty was returned. Justice Jack Landell passed sentence. Goetz already had a suspended sentence of six months given him at Newport Beach, it was said. Heither likewise was punished for the brawl, having recently paid a fine of $25. He appeared against Goetz in court here.

A tire made for the West in the West!

IN A FEW MATTERS we Westerners gladly hand the palm to our Eastern friends. Building subways and skyscrapers — yes! Football — possibly. Climate — improbably. Pleasure auto driving — no!

We drive more months of the year . . . . . have greater scenic attractions. The "great open spaces" draw us farther from home. We know roads — and autos — and tires!

Which, in a way, accounts for the success of C-T-C tires. They are built in the West to meet Western conditions.

Eastern engineers came West to build them — but they make them for the West as well as in the West!

Today they are ranked as one of the three or four really fine tires in America. They are the largest-selling tires made in a Western-owned factory.

Motorists in the nine western states know what a tire should do. Their purchases show that C-T-C does it!

Come in and let us show you this remarkable tire.

COUNTY AUTO DEATHS LESS DURING FIRST HALF OF 1925

15 Fatalities on Record As Compared with 20 During 6 Months in 1924

CITE SAFETY FIRST SLOGANS AS FACTOR

Motorcycle Officers Express Belief Decrease Is Due to Less Tijuana Traffic

Fifteen persons lost their lives in automobile accidents on Orange county highways during the half-year ended June 30, compared with 20 during a corresponding period in 1924.

A check of Coroner Charles D. Brown's records has revealed that the fatalities were 25 per cent less this year than last.

Whether the decrease is due to more care on the part of car operators or as a result of less travel to and from Tijuana this year seems to be a moot topic.

State motorcycle officers operating in this county attribute the drop in mortality on the roads to the fact that there were more drunken drivers on the road during the first half of 1924 than during the first six months of the current year. The records show that a large percentage of the fatal auto accidents may be laid to the door of liquor. And returning carousers from the gay city below the southern border account for much of the traffic which passed through Orange county.

Organizers of the safety campaigns instituted in the Los Angeles metropolitan area take credit for the big reduction in auto fatalities which has been registered this year. They claim that the publicity given safety measures and the many steps taken to foster "safe and sane driving" are making motorists as a general class take more care.

Traffic Laws Are Not Recent Ideas, As Letter Shows

"Let me call emphatic attention to the fact that the danger to pedestrians lies in the happy-go-lucky, all-over-the-shop method of driving which prevails in our dear city among the drivers of horses and motor cars alike," wrote a prominent citizen in 1905 to a Los Angeles paper. "The city should pass an ordinance requiring all vehicles to pass to the right when going in opposite directions, and in overtaking vehicles to pass to the left, the slow moving vehicles to keep close to the curb and no vehicles to take corners diagonally. With such regulations, there could be no objection to a speed limit of 15 miles an hour."

SAYS CHANDLER MOTOR MAKES DRIVING EASY

F. L. Moore, of the firm of Moore and Vandermast, Orange, and family have returned from an automobile tour to Portland, Ore., in their Chandler sedan.

Miss Adda Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, drove most of the time, and following her return here, declared to Fred M. Medbery, local distributor for the Chandler and Cleveland lines, that she found the traffic transmission and the Pike's Peak motor a combination that made driving a real pleasure. The ease of handling the car and the power of the motor were features she especially emphosized. The family traveled 2,877 miles.

H. F. Ross, of the firm of Potts and Ross, Orange, last week also proved the efficiency of the Cleveland. He and his party of five left Orange Friday of last week and drove to the Grand Canyon, 517 miles, and after a brief stay there visited other points of interest and returned home by Wednesday.

HUDSON COACH SEEN IN SANTA BARBARA RUINS

A Hudson coach driven by Don M. Loveridge, salesman for the R. W. Townsend Motor company, was one of the first on the scene at the Santa Barbara earthquake tragedy. Loveridge made a record run from Santa Ana to Santa Barbara in little more than three hours, with a Register cameraman as a companion. Above upper left is pictured the Hudson coach parked amid the ruins of the towers at the Mission Santa Barbara. Loveridge is seen standing beside the car. Upper right, the mission, the Hudson coach, and one of the mission fathers looking sadly at the wrecked towers. The lower left picture shows a section of the San Marcos building, with men searching for the body of the janitor, who later was found buried in the right hand corner. Lower left is one of the many wrecked apartment houses to be seen in Santa Barbara. A man sittin gin the rocking chair visible in the second room from the left, fell backward out of the building when the wall collapsed, but fortunately landed on his feet and was not injured.

WHOS WHO in MOTORDOM

The huntsman in the above portrait is none other than Berle E. Morthland, southern Orange county sales manager for the Star Motor Sales company, 600 West Fourth street, Santa Ana. This firm handles all the Durant products, including the Star, Durant and Flint motor cars.

Morthland has been a resident of Orange county for many years, graduating from the Anaheim high school. He resided in Anaheim and Fullerton before making his home in this city.

He entered the automobile business in 1908 and has followed it continuously since that time. Much of his early experience in the business was gained in New York and Chicago, and for several years he was the manager for MacArthur Brothers, state agents for Dodge Brothers motor cars in Arizona.

Morthland declares that approximately 1000 Star cars have been sold to the residents of Orange county since the Star's entry into motordom. He also brought out the fact that there has been a 72 per cent increase in Star sales in Southern California this year. The local agency is averaging about 25 cars each month, according to Morthland.

In addition to the spacious sales rooms maintained by the Star Motor Sales, there also is a large service and repair department in the same building, specializing in the service of Durant products, but also caring for general repair work. Morthland pointed out that an unusually large stock of replacement parts is carried for the convenience of the motorist.

At the present time, Morthland's staff of employes numbers 11.

Morthland is fond of hunting, to say nothing of fishing and other outdoor sports.

Make Trip From Santa Ana to Stricken City and Return In Day

Piloted by Don M. Loveridge, salesman for the R. W. Townsend company, distributor of the Hudson and Essex lines, a Hudson coach was the first car to be among the ruins of the Santa Barbara mission, following the recent quake.

Loveridge, in company with a Register staff photographer, made the trip from Santa Ana to Santa Barbara and return in one day, proving the stability and consistent performance of the new Hudson coach. A run of slightly more than three hours put the Hudson in Santa Barbara, according to Loveridge.

The two men left Santa Ana shortly before 10 o'clock and, after spending more than two and one-half hours among the ruins of Santa Barbara, were back in Santa Ana at 8 p. m. The excellent performance of the coach in taking mountain grades and the easy handling of the machine through the heavy traffic of Los Angeles were given as reasons for the fast time.

Santa Barbara in Ruins.

Conditions in Santa Barbara were found by the two men to be fully as bad as reported. A short trip down State street, the main business street of Santa Barbara, revealed that practically every building of brick, concrete or cement block construction was cracked or shaken apart. The entire section will have to be razed and rebuilt, according to Loveridge.

The Santa Barbara mission, which for many years has stood out as a landmark of the section, was badly damaged. Hopes for restoration of the mission were evinced by priests at the church. The old mission bells, which have hung for years on the two towers, are now hanging by one side only. They are still in their places, however. The interior of the mission was badly damaged, and the college situated back of the mission also was wrecked. One man was killed at the college and many others who were holding mass at the chapel of the church narrowly escaped death when they tried to open a door the wrong way. Had they opened the door and endeavored to escape, they would have been killed. The entire side of the building by the door collapsed.

First Evidence of Quake.

A scene of mud, twisted bars, overturned chicken coops, and uprooted trees was the first evidence of an earthquake to meet the eyes of the Santa Ana men. It was the course taken by water which flooded a section of the town. Three-fourths of the chimneys of the town are down. The Santa Ana men were surprised, however, at the excellent condition of the pavement on most of the streets in Santa Barbara. Reports to the effect that the pavement was buckled and broken are unfounded. The streets are in fairly good condition, according to Loveridge. Some of the streets have been badly broken by falling concrete blocks and some cracks and ridges are visible in several streets, but the streets are mostly in good condition.

ISSUE BOOKLET OF HINTS FOR AUTO DRIVERS

For the motorist who dislikes wearing gloves while working about his car, it is suggested that he rub cup grease thoroughly into the pores of his hands, into his cuticles and especially under the finger nails.

The presence of grease prevents the lodgement of dirt and grime and the grease is quickly washed off with gasoline.

The above is one of a hundred and one economies for motorists that have been compiled in a book of that name by the Tide Water Oil Sales corporation, marketers of Veedol motor oils and greases. The book deals with all parts of the car and a great many valuable suggestions for increased comfort and economy are outlined.

Through a special arrangement with the Tide Water Oil Sales corporation, the Santa Ana Register has secured 100 copies of this 96-page illustrated book that will be distributed without cost or obligation to the first 100 interested motorists, who call for a copy.

NEW 'HUP' MODEL IS POPULAR CAR

Coincident with announcement that the new Hupmobile sedan, on its four-cylinder chassis, is being shown here for the first time, Jack Roberton, manager for the Moulton company, Hupmobile agent here, released information to the effect that "Rusty" Miller, well known automobile salesman, had joined his sales staff and hereafter would "preach" the qualities of the "Hup."

"Refinements in the new sedan are expected to make this the most popular Hupmobile model," Roberton said. "These include new body lines, increased comfort and convenience, and patented windshield wiper.

"Though improvements in the car have been many, and the value made considerably greater, the price remains exactly the same as before.

"The body of the new club sedan is four inches longer than heretofore. Three inches of this is added in the rear compartment—the other one in front. Greater riding comfort as well as increased driving convenience is provided with this arrangement. The finish is Duco, optional either in Hupmobile blue or beige.

"From the standpoint of appearance, the changes have wrought a considerable influence, giving the car a larger, longer and more striking tone. This is further accentuated by the trunk rack at the rear. The new club sedan body is nine inches longer than that of the first models of that model.

"Interior seating arrangements are exactly like those of sedans, which, along with three doors and sedan refinements, makes this a very popular model."

SAFETY WORK WILL NOT LAG DURING SUMMER

Safety work among the more than 100,000 school children of Los Angeles will not be permitted to lag during the long vacation period, according to an announcement by the public safety department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. In the school year just closed, new records were established for enlisting interest of the pupils in accident prevention. The board of education, the automobile club and the cooperating committees in the schools are anxious that this high standard be maintained through the vacation period so that the effectiveness will not be lost.

Organization for summer work, which will include supervision of the public playgrounds, parks, school yards and street crossings will be under the direction of school safety committees.

It is pointed out by the board of education, Parent-Teacher associations and others engaged in child welfare work, that active supervision of the youngsters is as necessary during the long vacation period as during the school period. Through the central organization the safety work will be carried on through the summer with student committees organized for that purpose in every school where safety is taught.

WILL START ROAD REPAIR WORK SOON

Grading and rock surfacing of 26 miles of highway between Victorville and Hicks, San Bernardino county, will be undertaken as soon as contracts can be awarded by the California highway commission.

Bids also are asked for the construction of a reinforced concrete bridge across the Coachella storm water drain, located in Riverside county. This will close the gap in the pavement between the Imperial valley and San Bernardino. Both of these projects are classed as primary constructions and will be financed with federal aid.

The grading and surfacing between Victorville and Hicks is located on the National Old Trails highway, connecting with northern Arizona and Southern Nevada, which transcontinental route, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California, brings more tourists into the state than any other.

KEEN INTEREST IS EVIDENCED BY MOTORISTS IN LATEST LAW

Provisions Effective July 24 Are Reviewed by Legal Lights of Auto Club

NEW REGISTRATION SYSTEM IS PLANNED

Changes in Fees Are Announced as Part of Policy to Be in Force Soon

Interest among motorists is keen in the new provisions of the state motor vehicle law, enacted by the last general assembly, to become effective July 24, next. Some of these are particularly important to owners of cars.

Following are some of the new provisions as outlined by the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California:

The date of the expiration of the registration period has been advanced to midnight of December 31, and registration may be effected by application upon the certificate of registration. Under the new law, the certificate of ownership is valid until cancelled, and need not be renewed annually as heretofore.

Transfer Upon Death

The section relative to transfer by operation of law has been amended so as to provide that, in the event of death of the owner or legal owner of an automobile, the transfer of registration to the surviving spouse or to the heir may be made without probate proceedings, where there is no other property, and where the motor vehicle affected does not exceed in value the sum of $1000, and where only one motor vehicle was owned by the deceased.

The registration fees on electric motor vehicles designed and used for the transportation of passengers for hire or for the transportation of property have been changed from a former flat fee of $50 plus the $3 fee to the following:

Forty dollars, $60 and $80, according to the load-carrying capacity of such vehicles, plus the $3 registration fee. In addition, the registration fee for freight-carrying vehicles of all kinds has been reduced by a provision in the amendment permitting the deduction of 25 per cent in the amount of the fee after the expiration of each quarter of the registration year.

Exclusions from Act

In connection with this same subject, specific provision has been made to exclude from the operation of the act relative to weight fees, passenger carrying automobiles which are not devoted to commercial use, but which are occasionally used for the carrying of light merchandise.

The present section relative to permissable weight of loads has been amended so as to prohibit the carrying of more than 18,000 pounds on one axle or 9000 pounds on one wheel, thus providing for a more even distribution of weight on the vehicle without reducing the maximum weight limits heretofore permissible.

Under the new law, it would be permissible to use in headlights a shutter-like device which will depress the beams of light

HERE IS FORDSON TRACTOR NO. 500,000 COMING FROM FACTORY'S ASSEMBLY LINE

Reproduction of picture just received by George Dunton, local Ford-Lincoln-Fordson dealer, showing Fordson No. 500,000 as it came off the assembly line in the Ford River Rouge plant. The company plans to exhibit the tractor at a number of state fairs this summer and fall. Since becoming one of the Ford representaive in Orange county, Dunton has placed 527 machines.

MOTOR OFFICERS ARE FAST WORKERS

A driver with a urge for speed, a foot prodding the gas, a shimmying speedometer and then—

A roaring motorcycle alongside and a command to pull up at the curb, a state motor cop, notebook in hand and a driver trying to explain.

Multiply that scene by 30,301 and you will have what happened along the highways of California during the first five months of 1925.

9496 Are Arrested

C. K. Harder, chief inspector of the traffic officers, today made a report to Will H. Marsh, chief of the division of motor vehicles, showing this number of persons caught speeding during the period. The officers stopped 20,805 of these and either reprimanded them or handed them a tag, but 9496 others were not so lucky and were placed under arrest.

The report shows the officers actually stopped 84,420 violators of all sorts on the highways during the period. Of these 31,985 were found with illegal headlights, 20,805 were speeding, 14,289 were breaking "rules of the road" and 17,341 were guilty of miscellaneous infractions.

The officers arrested a total of 18,369 during the period. More than 5000 of these had glaring headlights. They collected $76,835.50 from erring motorists who had forgotten or dodged payment of the state fees, while fines resulting from arrests for the period amounted to $133,396.55.

More Than Million Miles

In doing this work the officers rode their motorcycles more than a million miles, the exact total being 1,037,122.

The report covers 39 counties of the state, cooperating with the motor vehicle department in state patrol of the highways.

With 13 officers on duty, San Diego county led in the number of arrests and amount of fines collected, the arrests totaling 1902 and fines $18,491. The officers rode 108,712 miles.

Work in Orange County

In Orange county, the seven men on duty stopped 4421 motorists, arrested 877 of them and rode 41,600 miles. They collected $1450 in delinquent fees and fines imposed on drivers arrested in the five-month period amounted to $9061.

The following five counties are high in the point of arrests, fines, etc.:

San Bernardino—Number stopped 6792; number arrested, 467; miles rode, 49,580; delinquent fees collected, $1,021.50; fines, $4256; officers employed, nine.

San Diego—Number stopped, 8,637; number arrested, 1902; miles rode, 108,713; fines, $18,491; officers employed 13.

San Joaquin—Number stopped, 6057; number arrested, 801; miles rode, 37,354; delinquent fees collected, $1396.50; fines, $8796; officers employed, six.

Santa Clara—Number stopped, 7249; number arrested, 1633; miles rode, 32,663; delinquent fees collected, $43,299; fines, $4992; officers employed, nine, (3 part-time).

Sonoma—Number stopped, 6715; number arrested, 406; miles rode, 28,336; delinquent fees collected, $1516; fines, $3037; officers employed, four.

Half Millionth Tractor Is Just Completed In Ford Plant

Manufacture of the half-millionth Fordson tractor in the Ford plant recently was an achievement of some note, according to George Dunton, Santa Ana Ford-Lincoln-Fordson dealer. Since becoming a Ford representative in Orange county, Dunton has sold and delivered in the county 527 Fordsons.

"Manufacture of Fordson tractors today presents a striking contrast between the methods employed eight years ago, when production began at the old plant in Dearborn," Dunton said. "At the start, only three or four Fordsons were produced each day and it took weeks to machine some parts. Today, in the River Rouge plant, where all tractors are now manufactured and assembled, output is on a schedule calling for 400 Fordsons a day, and the production cycle shows that 31 hours and 8 minutes after iron ore has arrived at the River Rouge docks it is concerted into Fordson motor blocks and the blocks assembled into completed motors.

"Since its introduction eight years ago, the Fordson tractor has come into world-wide use and has brought a new efficiency into agriculture and the business of farming in nearly every country on the globe. It is estimated that a large majority of all tractors in use today are Fordsons and the Fordson is said to be the only tractor ever placed on the market without a subsequent change in basic design.

"It is also a singular fact that long before he dreamed of manufacturing motor cars, Henry Ford was experimenting with engines in an effort to find some means of relieving farm drudgery. Born on a farm, his first glimpse of life was in the daily round of arduous farm duties and in his early boyhood he developed a strong feeling against prevailing agricultural methods.

LAW INTERESTS AUTO OWNERS

downward in order to avoid confusing drivers coming from the opposite direction. This does not, however, make permissible any device decreasing the minimum amount of light required by the present act.

Examination of Lenses

The present vehicle act requires manufacturers who wish to sell lenses or reflectors in this state to submit them for examination to an agency appointed by the division of motor vehicles and requires the payment of a $50 fee for such examination. This has been amended so as to permit the submitting of said lenses or reflectors for approval to the bureau of standards of the United States government, who will make the examination under the provisions of the California vehicle act and if the bureau of standards issues a certificate of approval to such manufacturers, then no further examination nor the payment of any fee will be required from such manufacturers in this state.

Ford cars manufactured prior to 1920 may, under a recent amendment, continue to use lights furnished with current directly from the magneto until Sept. 1, 1927, providing, however, that said lights otherwise comply with the anti-glare provisions of the law.

Practical Versus Mechanical Simplicity

So much emphasis is being given to the mechanical data of automobiles, that it tends to draw the mind away from consideration of practical service.

Whether or not a car has fewer or more parts is not paramount. The vital thing is the type and character of service it gives.

On that basis of trouble-free service, Cadillac V-type Eight today stands head and shoulders above the field,—because of the degree of perfection reached in 11 years of building one type of engine.

However critical and satisfied you may be, the Cadillac will reveal a standard of performance, a vibrationless ease of travel, that will make you eager to own and drive so fine a car.

ORANGE COUNTY MEN VISIT AIRPLANE FACTORY OWNED BY FORMER S. A. RESIDENT

(By TERRY E. STEPHENSON)

From bits of steel and unsharpened timber, each week two giant Martin bomber airplanes are made at Glenn L. Martin's factory in Cleveland, O.

Like a clock, in mechanism, this factory is organized, and like a steady-going, dependable clock it is operated. So perfect is the movement that twice each week, exactly on a calculated hour, a great bombing plane, ready for war or for peace time maneuvers, moves out of Glenn Martin's factory.

While in Cleveland, recently, attending the Rotary convention, William O. Hart, editor of the Orange News, O. M. Robbins, manager of the Home Mutual Building and Loan association, of Santa Ana, and I, together with a nephew of Mr. Robbins, who lives in Cleveland, had the opportunity and the pleasure of visiting the Martin plant.

Showed Early Interest.

It was a visit that we had talked about and planned. The three of us from California had all known Glenn years ago, when flying was still in its infancy. We recalled his early interest in aircraft, how he had shaped a crude plane and mounted a motorcycle engine in it, how, on the plains south of Santa Ana, he had learned to fly, first a mere hop off the ground, then a couple of hops, then, finally and bravely, a part of a circle was cut, and finally everybody in Santa Ana was told that Glenn Martin's fool plane would fly—a report that many heard and did not believe until with their own eyes they actually saw him rise from the McFadden field, circle in the air no higher than the gum trees and come down again—which in those days was a thrilling exhibition that none who saw will ever forget.

We recalled his rise in aeronautics, from an exhibition flyer to an aeroplane manufacturer, and as an aeroplane manufacturer to the pinnacle in the business. No aeroplane plant in the United States today stands higher, the product of none is more dependable.

A Beautiful Home.

We stopped for a few minutes at the Martin home on Cleveland's wonderful Lake Shore drive, where Glenn and his mother, Mrs. C. Y. Martin, live in a fine residence, surrounded by wide expanses of lawn, shaded over with oaks, elms and maples. We strolled down the path to the lake's edge, where great quantities of granite blocks have been thrown into a huge wall to stop the advance of the waters of the lake.

With Glenn and his mother as our guides, we entered the factory. To go through the factory is not a matter of a few minutes. It is a matter of a couple of hours, even though one does not pause anywhere for more than a minute or two. One quickly gets the impression of a thorough business organization, and this impression grows and grows.

Everything is figured down to a gnat's heel. We went through the engineering department, where blueprints and draftsmen are supreme, into the lathe room, where thousands of steel airplane parts are made, then into the plating department, where every screw, bolt and nut is given its coats.

Everything Listed.

Then we saw stockrooms, in which every last thing that is used in making an aeroplane, is listed and pigeonholed, so that no operation among the thousands that are necessary to bring an aeroplane to completion need be delayed a minute, and laboratories where tests of strength are applied and where chemical tests are given every shipment of metal received, so that there can be no piece of faulty material used in any plane.

We saw the plant's cafeteria, a marvel of cleanliness.

We went through departments where parts are assembled, where bodies are shaped, where materials are dressed, where wings are fitted, and then, after visiting many large areas where men are hard at work, we came to the floor space where parts are assembled, and we began to see an airplane.

From point to point, day by day or hour by hour, as the need may be, the structure is moved forward, until finally it reaches a point near the rear door. There it is given the final measurements. Plumbs are hanging from the ceiling, and every section of wing, and every curve and angle of the giant is tried out to see if it meets the exact specifications under which the Martin plant is turning out two bombers weekly for the United States navy.

On Big Contract.

Measured, the airplanes are torn down and shipped to naval flying fields—two a week going out as regularly as the clock comes around.

Just now the Martin plant, which, by the way, is owned entirely by the former Santa Anan, is at work on a $2,000,000 government contract.

"How many employes have you in the plans?" we asked Glenn.

"Seven hundred and twenty-five," was his reply.

When Martin's factory was established about 1917, it acquired 70 acres of land, of which only a part is utilized. The need of a large air field no longer exists. Until recently Martin's private field was Cleveland air field. The United States mail planes landed and took off there. Now Cleveland has a new municipal field, and Glenn is planning to sell a lot of his surplus acreage—say 40 acres of it, at $12,000 an acre.

Going to Europe.

Friends of Glenn and his mother, who, by the way, seems to us to be intimately acquainted with the workings of the factory, will be interested in knowing that it is quite likely that before the summer is over they will be on their way to Europe, where Glenn is expecting to go on a business trip. They hope before then to visit Santa Ana.

Needless to say, Glenn Martin is quite a busy man. But he has his factory so well organized that he knows by a half dozen report sheets placed on his desk daily exactly how things are going—he knows whether it is all going like clockwork. He had just returned from Washington, where he had been in conference with army airplane officers.

EUREKA GAS AIDS WINNERS IN HILL CLIMB

Officials of the Pauley Oil company proudly call attention to what they characterize as "another conspicuous victory for Eureka gasoline," which was added to its list last Sunday. The occasion was the ninth annual motorcycle hill climb, which was held at Laguna Beach under auspices of the Orange County Motorcycle club and the sanction of the American Motorcycle association.

All of the first three places in each of four different events, the total program for the day, were won by uers of this "newly perfected combination of quick starting plus power and mileage." All of these places were won under competition with other well known makes of gasoline. It is said there were even some specially doctored fuels being used by motorcyclists endeavoring to win.

If a person has never seen one of these motorcycle hill climbing contests, he cannot imagine the thrill and excitement it holds. The "course" is almost straight up and down, a 76 per cent grade to be exact. Many times a motorcycle tips over back on to its rider, so steep is the ascent. It takes real nerve to even enter the contest and an unusual degree of riding ability, with a powerful machine, to win.

Contestants are allowed a start of only about 10 yards, but it is dumbfounding the amount of speed they can pick up in that distance. They have to fairly dig and work their way up each foot of the climb, as the surface is only dirt, rather than the smooth pavement.

Several thousand motorists from Southern California, who attended the climb, were enthusiastic in their praise and admiration for the contestants, their machines and their equipment.

BREA FIRE CHIEF RESIGNS POSITION

BREA, July 6.—At the last meeting of the city trustees the resignation of A. R. Burns, fire chief, was accepted. The fire department is a volunteer one, composed of members of the American Legion post. Commander Ted Craig of the Legion was present at the meeting and told the council that the Legion would continue their support to the city as the fire department and recommended that Charles McGraw be appointed new fire chief. This recommendation being favorable to the council, Mr. McGraw was selected as fire chief.

But he is the same Glenn Martin we used to know. He is a bit fleshier, to be sure, but so are some of the rest of us. But success—and surely he has been successful—hasn't turned his head in the slightest.

EQUALIZATION BOARD AWAITS ROLL OF TAXES

Fresh from a court victory over the Petroleum Midway Oil company, which protested collection of $38,397.44 in taxes upon seven of its Orange county leases, Assessor James Sleeper was this afternoon preparing to turn over the county assessment roll to the county supervisors, sitting as a board of equalization.

Pending final check upon the roll, Sleeper was unable to announce today the exact total of the assessment for this year, but estimated that it would nearly approximate the total of last year, $154,000,000.

Judge Marvin Conkling today denied the Petroleum Midway company's application for an injunction against Sleeper. The company contended that its assessment was out of proportion to that of other similar properties in the county, and gave $21,492.29 as its idea of the proper tax upon the seven leases, five of which are at Huntington Beach and two at Yorba Linda.

Sleeper, who had attached $70,000 worth of the oil company's property, was ordered into court today to show cause why an injunction should not be issued. At the hearing, Judge Conkling held that the assessment was just and denied the injunction.

Sleeper was uncertain today whether the assessment roll would be ready for the board of equalization this afternoon. Upon receiving it the board will sit for the next few weeks to hear complaints that may be filed by taxpayers.

Blames Tattling Sister-in-Law In Divorce Action

False accusations, originating with a tale-tattling sister-in-law, played a prominent part in breaking up the home of Mrs. Hazel G. Stone, she alleged today in a divorce complaint filed in superior court against Ira F. Stone.

Stone's sister, she said, told him that his wife was entertaining men callers in his absence from their home at Garden Grove. This was not true, Mrs. Stone declares, but her husband believed it and unbraided her, adding unjust suspicion of his own.

They had been wedded more than 20 years when they separated, June 19. The marriage took place at San Bernardino, in 1905. They have two sons and two daughters, ranging in age from 7 to 18 years.

Attorney Kenneth H. Burns represents Mrs. Stone in the action.

3 Slightly Hurt In Auto Crashes

Mrs. F. W. Koller, Los Angeles, received a bad shaking up and was bruised in a crash on the Newport-Huntington Beach boulevard Saturday.

Ely Friedman, Los Angeles, was slightly injured in a collision on the state highway near Irvine Saturday between the car he was driving and the one operated by J. M. Brunsell, of Los Angeles.

Officer Disarmed By Bold Burglar

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Patrolman Robert L. Berry was disarmed by an unidentified bandit, after he had captured the gunman and his companion, following robbery of the Grand Pacific hotel here today. The robber escaped while his companion, James J. Devine, 28, was jailed.

The two bandits had just emerged from the hotel, where they had robbed W. W. Blackwell, night clerk, of $42 and a watch. The officer met them outside and placed Devine under arrest.

The other bandit fled, but was recaptured by Berry with the aid of another officer. A moment later he jerked Berry's gun from the officer's hand and re-escaped under a rain of bullets, none of which hit him.

Elderly Couple From Long Beach Wed Here

Both of them past threescore years and ten, Elijah Criddle, former Santa Ana rancher, and Mrs. Sarah C. Roe, of Long Beach, were married here July 3 by the Rev. F. T. Porter, pastor of the First Christian church.

Mr. Criddle and his bride were especially eager to keep the marriage from Roy, Frank and John H. Criddle, of Santa Ana, until they could return to Long Beach. Mrs. Roe formerly lived in Walla Walla, Wn., and met her husband at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frahm, 2022 East Seventh street, Long Beach, where Mr. Criddle often visited. Mrs. Criddle formerly lived at 22 East Seventh street, Long Beach, and Mr. Criddle at 248 Cedar street, Long Beach.

SIEVERS NAMED BANK PRESIDENT

J. D. Sievers, for the last 10 years a vice president and director of the First National bank in Brea, today was serving that institution as president, following his election to the position by the board of directors.

He succeeds E. L. Olmsted ,who volunteered his resignation, following the filing of his suit last week against W. D. Howard, president of the Continental National bank, of Los Angeles, alleging that Howard double-crossed him by selling stock in the Brea bank pledged as security for a loan.

It is understood here that Olmsted tendered his resignation pending settlement of the suit, and that he will resume his position later.

Sievers is well and favorably known in the Brea district and throughout the county.

At the meeting at which the resignation was accepted and appointment made, the directors voted to increase the surplus of the institution to an amount equal to the capitalization, which is considered quite an accomplishment.

SILK COMPANY LAUNCHED BY ESCONDIDO MEN

San Diego county, with Escondido as the location for the industrial plant, will have in operation within the next 12 months the largest modern raw silk producing plant in the world. At least such is the claim of the Escondido Chamber of Commerce, of which D. W. McDanald, formerly of Santa Ana, is secretary.

Sponsored by a group of Escondido bankers and business men, the San Diego County Silk corporation was launched at a dinner held at the Vale View inn, in Escondido, recently.

Sufficient funds were pledged to purchase a tract of 350 acres near Escondido and to begin the development work which will include, within the next few months, the installation of the irrigation system and preparation of the lands for fertilization and planting by May 1, 1926, at which time the cocoon production season for 1926 will be started.

Filature Plant Completion.

The filature plant for the conversion of the cocoons into raw silk thread and waste silk for spun yarns will be completed by the end of the season of 1926, ready to begin the conversion of the 166,000 pounds of cocoons which it is estimated will be the first year's production.

The board of managers for the new concern includes John L. Offutt, of the Northern San Diego county bank, chairman; B. C. Wohlford, president of the Escondido National bank, treasurer; H. W. Brewer jr., manager of the Escondido branch of the Southern Trust and Commerce bank; James B. Dixon, manager of the Escondido Mutual Water company, and H. R. Greaves, capitalist and orange grower.

A complete statement of the aims and development program of the company was presented to the group of men who attended the dinner by the board of managers and by representatives of the chamber of commerce of San Diego and Escondido and the engineers for the California Raw Silk Factors company, who will have charge of the development and installation of the plant.

Is Smallest Unit.

"This first plantation of the many which we are projecting is considered to be the smallest economical unit," said Mr. Offutt. "It will operate a mulberry grove of 320 acres, which will produce, for purposes of rationing, about 1800 tons of leaves per season, and the output of its cocooneries, where the worms are reared under controlled conditions, will turn out in a seven months season, an annual average of 420,000 pounds of fresh cocoons. These will be converted into approximately 45,000 pounds of raw thread and 15,000 pounds of waste silk for spun yarns.

"The market for raw silk in the United States is about 50,000,000 pounds annually, so it is apparent that, while we will have the largest single plant in the world, it won't make much of an impression at the present rate of consumption. We will produce about one-tenth of one per cent of all the raw thread used annually in the United States. The successful operation of the plant will, however, open the way to the expansion of the industry in the northern part of San Diego county and utilize to the highest economic advantage the many thousands of acres of available lands with irrigation supply in this district.

"The silk industry can get into production more rapidly than any other agricultural development. We have available from the nurseries of the California Raw Silk Factors company, about 250,000 mulberry trees of three-year stock at the time of planting this coming winter, which have been pruned and trained for grove purposes and will afford a harvesting of about 25 per cent for the coming season, and a full production for the following season.

"This plant will employ about 130 supervisors and operatives for 52 weeks each year, the same employes being shifted from the cocooneries to the filature in the fall and back again in the spring.

"The value of the annual production at average prices will be approximately $200,000 per annum. mates on the coast of operation are approxiametly $200,000 per annum. The product will be contracted under specification orders to either the sewing silk or the knit goods mills, and will go from the plant as 'luxury' silk in the weights that are adapted to the particular manufacturer with whom we contract."

To Conduct Joint Installation Here

With W. A. Vandergrift, Los Angeles, supreme president of the Fraternal Brotherhood, in attendance, the Santa Ana, Anaheim and Olinda lodges of that order will hold a join installation in the local M. W. A. hall, July 9, at 8 o'clock, it was announced today by Mrs. F. D. Sanborn, secretary.

The induction will be in charge of the degree team of the Long Beach lodge, said to be one of the crack aggregations of the order.

A large attendance of members from Los Angeles, Long Beach, Anaheim and Olinda is expected.

REALTORS HEAR ABOUT ORANGE ROPE FACTORY

O. B. Eller, president and manager of the Western Cordage company, Orange, Friday noon discussed at the meeting of the Santa Ana Board of Realtors, the manufacture of rope, a product of the company.

Ellen evidenced his familiarity with every feature of the art of making rope, from production of the raw material to the complete product.

He discussed the various types of hemp used in manufacture of rope and emphasized points that makes one type better than another in the manufacture of the product.

He declared that the "three strand" idea of making the article was in vogue 3000 years ago, and that there has been virtually no change in the general scheme, except that machinery now is used where rope was made in the early day exclusively by hand.

Manila hemp is the best and is being used almost exclusively in the United States, it was intimated. The speaker said the Philippine islands last year produced 1,500,000 bales of hemp, each bale containing 250 pounds. It requires the time of one person for two weeks to develop a bale, he said.

The realty dealers were given an invitation to visit the manufacturing plant at Orange and learn more of the process of producing rope.

Concession Owner Thought Murdered

NILES, Calif., July 3.—Believed to have been shot by bandits who sought to rob him and then set fire to his refreshment stand, the body of Joe Torres, 50, was found in the ruins of his Niles canyon establishment.

Neighbors ran to the stand after hearing seven shots and found the place on fire. A volunteer fire brigade was organized here and sent to the scene, but could not save the building.

Torres' body was found, partly burned, the hand still clutching a hammer which he is thought to have used in fighting the bandits.

No trace could be found of a large sum of money he was supposed to have with him.

FOURTH LOSING SIGNIFICANCE, SAYS MINISTER

The spirit of Independence day, with its vibrant tingle of patriotism, was brought back to grateful remembrance by various speakers at the weekly luncheon of the Santa Ana Knights of the Round Table, held Friday at St. Ann's Inn.

A special program, including recitals, orations, addresses and songs, had been arranged for the occasion.

An outstanding feature of the patriotic services that filled the first part of the program, was a recital of the Declaration of Independence, by B. C. McKinney, local attorney.

The principal address of the program was delivered by Dr. Moffett Rhodes, pastor of the Methodist church, South Santa Ana.

Losing Significance

Calling attention to the fact that Independence day is beginning to lose its real significance with the greater number of citizens he said:

"Patriotism doesn't mean the singing of the 'Star Spangled Banner' and the waving of American flags on stated occasions, for the purpose of convincing yourself and your fellow citizens what a fine type of American you are. Real patriotism, the brand that gave birth to the Declaration of Independence, means something more than mere form, ritual and lip service.

"Not so long ago I had occasion to listen to a man that made a most wonderful talk on the American constitution. Judging by the glowing tribute he paid the flag, by the earnestness of his speech and the patriotic fervor of his delivery, one was led to believe that he represented what there was best in American citizenship," the speaker related. "Just about a month from that time this man was arrested for bootlegging," he added significantly.

"True patriotism is manifest in our daily lives, in our relations with neighbors and fellow citizens, in the upholding of the great ideal voiced in the Declaration of Independence.

Not Empty Phrases

"These lofty sentiment expressed in that great historical document are no empty phrases, to be drawn upon for holiday speeches and campaign addresses. They are 'realizable' ideals that should be enshrined in the hearts of the people."

Urging a more direct application of American principles in everyday life, the speaker scored those who, parading as patriots, are undermining America by sowing the seed of dissension and prejudice among the citizenship.

"We pride ourselves on the fact that 'pursuit of happiness' is enumerated among the inalienable rights contained in the Declaration of Independence, yet we have people who are trying to neutralize or nullify this constitutional right by appealing to race or religious prejudice."

Appreciation of American citizenship was voiced by Prof. D. Cianfoni, well known local musician, who, in the course of a patriotic address, outlined opportunities offered the foreign-born citizen in this country.

$395,000 Paid For $2,000,000 Woolworth Home

NEW YORK, July 3.—The Italian renaissance home of the late F. W. Woolworth, at Glen Cove, L. I., was sold under the auctioneer's hammer recently for $395,000. It is a magnificent structure of marble and cost about $2,000,000.

The property will not for the present pass out of the Woolworth family despite the sale. The highest bidder was Charles F. Noyes, New York realty operator, who is said to have represented Charles F. McCann, the husband of Mrs. Helena Woolworth McCann, one of the daughters of the 5-and-10 cent merchant.

It is not known whether the Woolworth place was bought for sentimental reasons or to hold as an investment. The bidding was decidedly slow, and Joseph P. Day, the auctioneer, had to plead in the heat a half hour before any of the dozen persons gathered in the stately music room of the home made a bid.

The sale was one of a series in the dissolution of the Woolworth estate. The Woolworth building recently was sold for $11,000,000. Later the town house, 990 Fifth avenue, will be placed on the block.

$895 Touring Car F.O.B. Detroit, Tax Extra

Those who have been fortunate enough to ride in the new car declare that never before has there been a four that delivers so much in fine performance, so much in roadability and riding and driving ease.

For the Chrysler Four is a true companion to the Chrysler Six. It represents in a very definite and practical sense the application of the same quality and fine manufacture that raised the Chrysler Six to its peak of popularity.

Consequently it is not surprising that the new Chrysler Four is already hailed as the most modern and soundest contribution to finer four-cylinder motoring.

See it—ride in it—drive it! Call on us—we are only too glad to extend you the opportunity to learn at first hand the many advantages of owning a new Chrysler Four.

First car of its price with the option of hydraulic four-wheel brakes at slight extra cost. Closed bodies by Fisher.

Touring Car, Club Coupe, Coach and Sedan—attractively priced from $895 to $1095, f. o. b. Detroit subject to current government tax.

A GOOD CAT IN A BAG
Would you answer an ad like this? Possibly, if you were in the market for a cat and the writer of the ad bore the reputation of selling good cats only. And, upon answering the ad, would you buy the cat without opening the bag? Probably not, unless the sellers' reputation for honest representation was an enviable one; and even in that event, if you knew nothing about cats, you most likely, if at all discreet, would have a cat expert examine it before making the investment.
We have a reputation for selling GOOD NEW USED CARS; yet we ask nobody to buy on the strength of our judgment alone. An expert examination is welcomed at any time; thereby more completely insuring satisfaction which in turn, strengthens our reputation; the most valuable asset to our business.

FIVE DROWN AT BEACH RESORTS

Undertaker Is Injured

L. R. Harrell, Huntington Beach undertaker, while encourt to the beach to get the bodies of the two girls, was struck in the face by an exploding firecracker and seriously burned.

Victor Elsken, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Elsken, 822 Washington place, Long Beach, died in Santa Ana hospital Saturday morning from the effects of being crushed beneath an automobile driven by Eugene Blankenship, Huntington Park chauffeur. The lad was said to have attempted to cross the highway at Serra beach Friday evening directly in front of the Blankenship car. Blankenship declared that he swerved to avoid striking two lads who started to cross the road and then turned back, and that his machine crashed into the Long Beach boy after it had skidded a distance of 40 feet.

Coroner Charles D. Brown this afternoon conducted an inquest at the Winbigler Mission Funeral home into the death of Victor Elsken.

Drowns When Boat Upsets

Charles Dillon, 19 years old, of Santa Monica, was drowned and his companion, Dorothy Schoenfeld, 16 years old, of Los Angeles, narrowly escaped a similar fate when a canoe in which they were riding turned over near the mouth of Orange County harbor Saturday. City Marshal J. A. Porter, of Newport Beach, said that Miss Schoenfeld told one of his men than she had been responsible for the overturning of the canoe.

The two started to swim for shore. When Miss Schoenfeld looked back, her companion was gone beneath the waves. His body was not recovered.

The body of Leon S. Turberg, of Los Angeles, who drowned at Newport Beach June 28, was recovered Saturday when a fasherman near the city pier nagged it with his hook. An inquest was held and a verdict of death by drowning was returned. The body was removed to Los Angeles.

Ernest Franklin, 48, and Bernard Franklin, 45, were seriously injured when their automobile crashed into a bridge over Brea canyon Saturday. Both men reside in Los Angeles. Nellie Franklin, sister of the two men, was uninjured.

Both men suffered what surgeons say are possible fractures of the skull. Turning aside to avoid striking another car, their mamichine crashed into the bridge rail.

Four Hurt at Oceanside

Four Santa Ana persons were slightly injured Saturday morning in a crash on the state highway near Oceanside, which practically demolished the machine in which they were riding.

V. D. Williams was returning to this city from Escondido, with his wife and three children, Mrs. Stella Jordan and Moses Best, all of 510 East Second street, when a car operated by Oscar Williams, Pasadena, struck his auto head-on, according to his report. The Pasadena machine is alleged to have swung out of a long line of traffic leading south.

Mrs. Williams and her 20-month old babe were thrown out of the car by the force of the impact, which crushed in the entire front of the lighter car. Mrs. Williams had her breast bone crushed. The baby escaped injury.

Williams was cut on the face by flying glass. Irene, a 5-year-old daughter, was bruised and also cut by glass.

Best was cut on the chin and about the shins by glass from the windshield.

Seaman Is Injured

Jack Gooch, 18, seaman, attached to the U. S. naval base at San Diego, suffered a bad scalp wound in a collision near San Juan Capistrano on the night of July 4. The coupe in which the injured man was riding with three other sailors was wrecked. Gooch was given treatment at the county hospital.

Five other traffic accidents were reported over the holiday and week-end to the sheriff's office and the city police. No one was seriously injured in any of the mishaps.

Henry Magee, 60, Yorba, was slightly hurt when a car driven by G. Ronaldi, also of Yorba, struck him while on the highway at Richfield Saturday night.

A woman, whose name was not given on the report sheet, was slightly hurt on the head and shoulders when a taxi in which she was riding collided with a machine driven by Thomas D. Knight, 428 Fruit street, on East Fourth street, Saturday night. C. D. Murphy, who was driving the taxi, declared in his report of the accident that Knight turned his car in the middle of the block.

"COUNT YOUR MERCIES"

Winslow, Ariz., July 3, 1925.

Editor Register—Am enclosing herewith money order to apply on my subscription and will also add a word in regard to the water bonds just defeated in Santa Ana.

If the people of Santa Ana could live on this desert for a short time, where water must, in most cases, be HAULED for miles and not piped a few miles, as you have it there, they would realize the importance of building up a large water supply.

Here in Arizona water has to be hauled as far as 125 miles to different towns, and right now a shortage exists at places where there are reservoirs. The trouble with the people of Santa Ana is that they have everything if they will go get it, while out here we don't have it to get; and if water was plentiful within a few miles of these towns I am sure they would vote overwhelmingly to get it.

Yours truly,
H. O. GRIGGS.

ACCIDENT VICTIM DIES IN HOSPITAL

W. F. Weimer, 47, 105 South Ross street, who was injured last Wednesday when caught in a gravel cave-in in the pits near Orange, succumbed Saturday morning in the Santa Ana Valley hospital after tetanus set in. His legs were badly mangled.

Weimer, who was a teamster in the employ of the B. R. Ford Construction company, was in the pits taking a load of gravel when he lost his footing and fell between the bank and the wheels of his wagon.

Funeral services will be held in the Winbigler Mission Funeral home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with the Rev. F. T. Porter, of the First Christian church, officiating. Interment will be made in Fairhaven cemetery. An inquest was to be held this afternoon.

CALIFORNIA ORANGE MARKET IS LOWER

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Office of the Fruit World)—The inability of the market to absorb the increased offerings of California Valencia oranges at the high prices that have ruled was again demonstrated the past week by a generally easier market with lower prices. Offerings in the auctions the past week were the heaviest this season. The heavy offerings were the result of an anticipated heavy demand for oranges over the Fourth of July holiday period on the part of some shippers. Interior markets have also been generally easier and lower under heavier offerings.

With a reduced shipping schedule in effect and only a small accumulation of cars on track the market should regain strength quickly. Shipments the past week totaled 662 cars as against 802 the previous week. It is estimated that there were approximately 7500 cars of Valencias remaining for shipment after July 1.

F. O. B. Quotations

F. o b. California quotations are being made on individual cars according to size and district. Fancy Valencias, medium sizes, generally range from $6.50 to $7.00 per box f. o. b.

Growers in practically all districts of the citrus belt report a fine setting of oranges for the 1925-26 crop. There has been practically no "June drop" to speak of this season and unless new developments arise as an aftermath of the recent hot wave a splendid crop should result.

Lemon Market

The marke on California lemons is generally easier and lower. The trade bought freely during the recent hot spell and as a result have considerable supply of high priced lemons to work off before they will be in the market again.

Weather conditions have not been conducive to a heavy demand for lemons the past week, although reports the latter part of the week showed the middlewestern country was again warming up. A spirited demand for lemons may be again looked for as a result of the new hot wave.

F. o b. California quotations are generally on a basis of $5 to $5.50 per box in Extra Choice stock.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next thirty days in all United States ports, approximately 539 cars of foreign lemons as compared with 243 cars in 1924; 647 in 1923 and 519 in 1922.

the system of scattering the traffic by directing the stream of cars at strategic points helped to relieve the congestion. The new coast highway along the shoreline, he observed, diverted a lot of traffic which otherwise would have had to follow other county routes.

Extra city police were on duty along North Main to control the flow of machines through the city and keep the cars moving. In times past tieups have occurred, owing to traffic from the beach resorts converging south of the city.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, July 6.—Refreshed by the two days' suspension of business, Wall Street revived the buying movement interrupted by Saturday's stock exchange failure. Forced liquidation resulting from this development evidently had been well absorbed, for the upswing in many stocks was resumed at the tap of the gong and proceeded steadily in various groups, practically throughout the session.

Shorts on Mack Truck were trapped by a wide opening, the initial transaction taking place 3 points higher than the previous close. The stock immediately forged into record territory, stimulating substantial advances in other industrials.

Rails were strengthened by an active demand for New York Central, Atchisan and other standard leaders. Call money was available at 4 per cent and the mid-year money strain was obviously past and the outlook for easy credit conditions the balance of the summer was an important factor in the confident tone displayed by the general list all day.

The market closed higher. Closing prices included:

CHICAGO BD. OF TRADE

CHICAGO, July 6.—Wheat and oats made substantial gains in trading on the Chicago board of trade today. Corn sagged. Principal buying in wheat developed shortly before the close. Previous to that time the market was very quiet and moved within a comparatively small range.

Corn was under pressure because of the continued growing weather. Farmers were reported selling old supplies because of the better outlook for growing crops.

Oats on the other hand, need cooler weather. Belief among traders is that prevailing temperatures are too hot.

Provisions were fairly active and higher. Range:

PIRATES, SENATORS SETTING FAST PACE

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS

No athletic event on the whole list of strenuous sports demands the skill, endurance and the courage that is required to swim the English Channel. Rowing is the most exacting of the sports that are commonly practiced in this country but the physical beating of twenty minutes or more in a four-mile race cannot compare to the harrowing torture of a battle against wind and tide for fifteen hours or more.

Swimming the English Channel is a job that calls for the specifications of a man and a very strong man. In all time only three men have been able to cross from the English shore to the French side. It is most unusual then and extraordinary to find a nineteen-year-old girl who is game enough to make the attempt.

Prepares For Test

Young Gertrude Ederle, one of America's greatest swimmers, is in England now, preparing herself to hop off and head for the French shore some time this month when the conditions are considered favorable. No definite date can be set and she must be trained and ready to take the water on very short notice when skilled seamen believe that tide and wind conditions are favorable.

Miss Ederle did not decide to make the attempt until she had tried the stretch from the Battery in New York to Sandy Hook, a distance slightly short of the twenty-mile distance between Dover to Cape Gris-Nez on the French shore. Her father would not have given his permission if she had not shown in that trial that she was capable of doing the distance under more severe circumstances. Without any nourishment, Miss Ederle swam the distance in seven hours and eleven minutes, cutting seven minutes off the best time ever made by a man on that course. By a mistake in calculations she had two hours of a severe battle against a tricky tide, but she pulled up strong with a sprint at the finish.

Channel Is Treacherous

The distance from the Battery to Sandy Hook cannot be compared as a trial, however, to the channel course. The average rise and fall of the tide in New York Bay is four feet five inches, while it is four times as great in the English Channel with fierce currents to correspond. The channel is almost continuously in a nasty chop and a swimmer cannot follow a map line of the shortest distance between two shore points. The course must be altered to meet changing conditions and in the extreme, the swimmer may have to describe a course very similar to a large M. It has frequently happened that a swimmer has been within striking distance of the French shore when he would be swept so far off his course that he would be unable to get back.

Miss Ederle has the mechanical equipment to swim the distance, she has the courage to fight the water but it remains to be seen if she has the endurance to fight more than half a day against ice cold water and a cruel tide.

TIGER HURLER INJURED

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Wee Willie Ludolph, Vernon pitcher, did not accompany his team north today. Ludolph lost two teeth and was badly bruised in a collision with Bobby Schang, Vernon catcher, in pre-game practice July 4.

STRIBLING WINS

EAST CHICAGO, Ind., July 3.—William "Young" Stribling, Macon, Ga., outpointed Johnny Risko, two-fisted light heavyweight fighter from Cleveland, in a 10-round go here last night. Stribling took six of the rounds, three were even and one was Risko's.

ILLINOIS CLUB HIGH JUMPER EASY WINNER AT S. F. MEET

Breaking the world's high jump record, Harold Osborne, Illinois Athletic club, was the outstanding star of the National A. A. U. championship field and track meet held in San Francisco, July 4. His jump was 6 feet 9 inches.

S. A. WOODMEN LOSE 2 GAMES IN WEEK-END

It was far from a safe and sane July 4 vacation that the Santa Ana Woodmen baseball team spent over the past week-end.

The local lodge dropped a wild-eyed, 16-10, fray to the Fremont Woodmen Saturday afternoon and also suffered defeat, 13 to 4, to the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce club yesterday. Both contests were played at Huntington Beach and attracted fair sized crowds.

Fremont, rated as one of the most powerful clubs in the Pacific league of Los Angeles, scored six runs in the first inning and the local men came right back with nine tallies in their half of the same frame. Santa Ana, however, couldn't hold its advantage, the Angelenos pecking away at Sebastian until they had overcome the lead and going out in front with a three run rally in the fifth.

Sebastian didn't pitch so badly but he was accorded miserable support by his teammates who were guilty of six errors, all coming at critical periods. Sebastian garnered four blows out of six trips.

"Whitey" Spencer pitched consistently for the Santa Ana Junior Chamber of Commerce team which got off to a five run lead in the first inning and never was in danger of losing its ball game. Every man on the Junior Chamber team got at least one hit. L. Daley smacked out three safeties and Middlebrook, Johnson, Ed Daley, Kidman and Spencer all whacked two each. Johnson and Spencer hit for the circuit.

ROBINSON AND LIVESEY GRAB LINKS HONORS

Coming home one up, a margin good enough to show the way to a whole host of golfers, gave Homer Robinson and Jimmy Livesey jr. first place in the best ball foursome against par in the July 4 special "doings" at the Santa Ana County club. Robinson and Livesey were forced to their best to take the honors from George Shattuck and Fred Parsons who came in even with par.

The driving contest for women members was won by Miss Marjorie Tubbs who placed three balls down the center of the fairway for an aggregate distance of 453 yards. Miss Tubbs only recently took up golf and her success is largely due to her careful following of the instructions of her father, V. V. Tubbs.

Mrs. Hugh Shields was second with an aggregate of 303 yards and had it not been for a disastrous econd shot she undoubtedly would have finished close to Miss Tubbs.

The puting contest for women was taken by Mrs. J. L. Wheeler, wife of the president of the club. Mrs. Wheeler demonstrated her ability by coming in one stroke better than any of her opponents. Miss Enid Twist was second.

* * *

The driving contest for men was featured by the number of times the scorers called "out of bounds." Two lines were laid out on each side of the fairway and the drives had to be incide these lines to count.

L. W. Bemis tok first place with three excellent shots all straight down the fairway. His drives measured 258-19-232 yards for a total of 689 yards. C. G. Twist was second with theree shots that measured 525 yards. W. E. Chilson was the only other golfer beside Bemis and Twist who kept his three shots the straight and narrow path.

TAKE TWO—GOLF

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Robinson captured the mixed foursome which brought out a large number of entrants. The Robinsons totaled 45 for nine holes, leading the field by five strokes. C. G. Twist and Miss Enid Twist were second.

* * *

One of the most interesting matches reported in the goat contest was between those old rivals of the links, J. Fred Parsons and C. G. Twist. Rumor had it that each was determined to get the other's "goat." At the end of the first nine Fred was two holes in the soup, but he got these back, according to C. G. by luck. Then he won another, putting hi mone up.

This was squared and at the sixteenth C. G. once more took the lead, the seventeenth was halved, and at the last hole Fred pulled one of those long putts for which he is famous and got a birdie to C. G.'s par, thus saving his "goat" for another day.

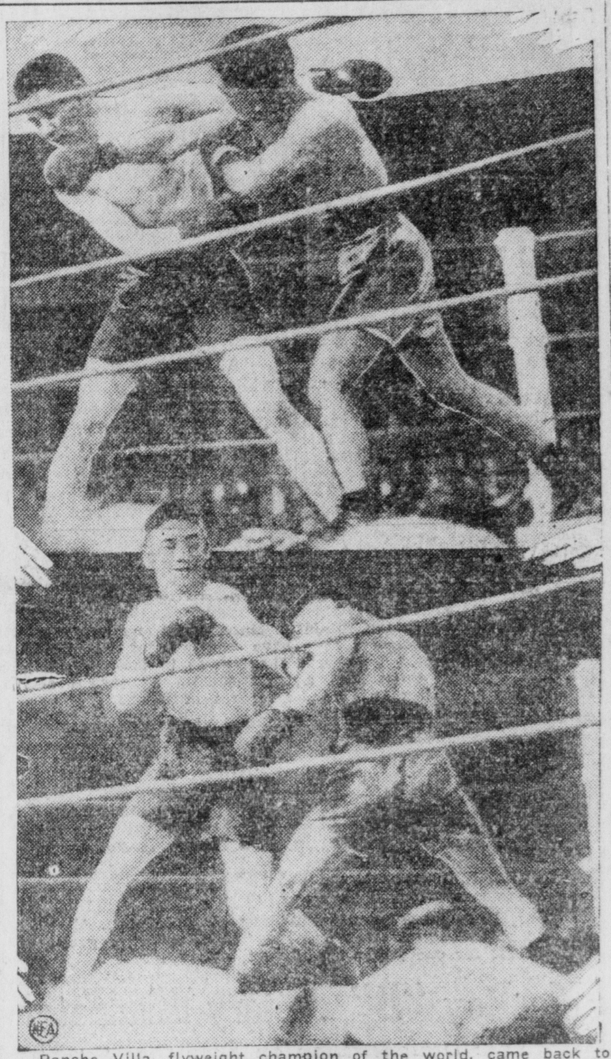

We also heard a whisper that the birdie was of value to Fred as it halved the foursome in which he was playing and a birdie generally has an intrinsic value. Anyway it was noticed that Fred had a very happy smile when he approached the club house while C. G. was telling the rest that that goat should have been his if luck had not been with Fred.

Spencer Collins, local clothier, has donated a golf sweater and golf stockings as prizes that will go to the winner of next Saturday's medal play. Several other awards also will be made.

CALLAHAN TO MEET O'DONNELL TUESDAY

LOS ANGELES, July 6.—Johnny O'Donnell, St. Paul Irishman, will meet "Mushy" Callahan, local Jewish newsboy lightweight, in the ten-round main event at Vernon tomorrow night.

Callahan upset the high ambitions of Russie Leroy at Vernon several weeks ago whe nhe knocked the North Dakota fighter out, and he promises to repeat on O'Donnell.

O'Donnell, however, laughs when anyone mentions the possibility of his being knocked out. He claims he has never been knocked out, and only once, that time at the hands of Ace Hudkins, was he knocked to the floor.

NEW YORK A. C. CAPTURES BIG 'FRISCO MEET

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Track and field stars of the nation were returning home today with the New Cork Athletic club holding the center of the aftermath gossip.

Not content with wresting the senior meet honors from the Illinois Athletic club Saturday, the Gotham team came back yesterday and closed the three day meet by winning each of the relay events by wide margins.

In the 440 yard relay, the New York Athletic club team, including Hussey, Todd, MacDonald and Scholz, broke a world's record by covering the distance in 41 2-5 seconds.

Harold M. Osborne of the Illinois club covered himself with glory by nearly equalling his own world's record in winning the decathlon. It was a very tired young man who, late in the day stumbled across the tape in the 1500 meter race, the last of the ten events in which he had competed within six hours.

Otto Anderson, former University of Southern California star, competing for the Hollywood Athletic club, was second, while John P. Jones of Illinois was third.

Officials have yet to decide whether the many new records set during the meet will be allowed. A strong wind blowing down the course each afternoon helped speed the racers.

HELEN IS MODEST

NEW YORK, July 6.—"Perhaps I may be able to beat her when she grows old," Miss Helen Wills, tennis champion, replied when she was asked what she thought about a match with Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, who staged a comeback at Wimbledon last week. Miss Wills is at Forest Hills training for the big eastern tournaments.

Greenleaf will meet all comers in 125 point matches, both afternoon and evening, following with exhibitions of fancy shots.

Billy Evans Says

Bill Tilden, Vinnie Richards, Bill Johnston and Dick Williams, unless they suffer a radical relapse from form, are almost sure of an appointment to the team that will defend the Davis cup against France or Australia.

Tilden and Richards were not eligible for the team until they secured a release from their contracts which required them to report the play in the national championships and the Davis Cup matches for newspaper syndicates.

The new amateur rule, passed last winter, allows players to do newspaper work as long as they do not use their titles with their signature and as long as they do not try to do reportorial work on any tournament in which they are competing.

Even after he had secured a release from the contract, there was some doubt that Tilden would pay any serious attention to tennis this summer, as he has been very busy with the movies and the typewriter. Last winter he said he intended to play only in the national championships and the Davis Cup matches if he should be appointed to a place on the cup defending team. Recently, however, he announced that he was going in for a full season and that he would play in all the major tournaments. Perhaps he changed his mind after he was beaten by little Vinnie Richards.

GIANTS BEGIN TO WOBBLE AS HURLERS FAIL

Three Old-Timers Leading Washington Toward Top Place in American Loop

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 6.—Pulling up to the half way station, it begins to look as if the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Washington Senators are to supply the amusement in the world's series next fall.

The Pirates, moving with full team ahead, are holding a lead of two full games over the champion New York Giants and they are showing no signs of faltering. Good pitching and some of the hardest hitting that a major league club ever has assembled are keeping the Pittsburg club out in front on merit.

The Pirates won six out of eight games last week and in the same time the giants lost four out of seven games. McGraw's team is feeling the lack of steady pitching again and is not hitting enough to overcome that weakness of the defense.

The Brooklyn Robins played the best ball in the National league last week, winning six out of their seven games, while the Cincinnati Reds were having a terrible slump, winning only one of their six games.

In regaining the lead in the American league, the Champion Senators played almost perfect baseball in winning seven out of their last eight games.

Three of the choice antiques of the game, Walter Johnson, Stanley Coveleskie and Dutch Reuther, are winning so many games for Washington that it looks like the Senators are an odds on choice for the pennant.

The Philadelphia Athletics are hustling too, of course, but the pitching is falling down. "Lefty" Groves is still unable to win a game and Sammy Gray has lost two games since he returned to the lineup.

M'LARNIN WILL NOT FIGHT AGAIN SOON

OAKLAND, Cal., July 6.—Jimmy McLarnin, sensational bantamweight who Saturday surprised the boxing world by winning a decision over Pancho Villa, world's flyweight champion here, will not fight again before fall.

Although offers are flooding the youth and his manager, "Pop" Foster, McLarnin plans to leave within a few days to visit his parents in Vancouver, B. C. Then he will spend several weeks roughing it in the Canadian mountains before returning to the ring.

A rematch between McLarnin and Villa is already being discussed. The champion claimed poor condition, which should serve as good authority for another bout.

Piping 'Em Off

Yesterday's Hero—Rice Young, Brown outfielder, singled in the thirteenth inning and drove in the run that beat the Tigers, 6 to 5.

Gus Felix hit a homer in the eighth inning with one on and gave the Braves a 4 to 2 victory over the Robins in the second game after they had won the first game 4 to 1.

Kremer held the Cubs hitless for seven innings and the Pirates won 3 to 2. Traynor got two doubles and two singles in four times up.

The Giants knocked Jimmy Ring out of the box and beat the Phils 8 to 3.

Luque issued eight passes and helped the Reds lose to the Cards 3 to 1.

Sad Sam Jones was knocked out of the box again and the Senators bumped the Yankees 7 to 2.

RELIEF SHIP TO CONDUCT RADIO TESTS

QUEBEC, July 6.—Shortly after MacMillan leaves America for his expedition into the far north, Captain J. E. Bernier, veteran sailor, will leave this port for the same region and on an almost similar mission.

Bernier's ship is the Arctic, relief and provision ship for the Canadian mounted police. It has made 21 trips to the ice wastes, in as many years, to exchange officers and men at the distant police posts and leave provisions for another year. Surveys and scientific observations will also be made.

But this year an additional task has been set for Captain Bernier. He has taken with him a low-wave transmitting set, besides a receiver, with which he expects to send signals from as far as eleven degrees from the north pole.

In charge of this radio apparatus will be Robert M. Foster, Canadian amateur, whose station C2AG is well known to many American amateurs.

Almost a year ago, while the Arctic was on its rounds in the north, broadcasting station KDKA at Pittsburgh, Pa., was able to reach it almost daily by the short wave route. This was done in the continuous daylight of the arctic summer.

Messages from the arctic back to America had to be relayed by Canadian and American amateurs. But this year station KDKA and Captain Bernier expect to exchange messages direct.

This task is similar to that set before MacMillan. Who will be first in succeeding to get a message to America direct from the arctic is a matter of guesswork.

WORLD'S BIGGEST

Germany is building what will be the world's most powerful broadcasting station. It will be at Herzogstand, Bavaria, and will have a power of 100 kilowatts. The idea is to make it available for reception by crystal sets in all parts of Germany.

Too Many Want Same Nights

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Here, in a nutshell, is the situation federal radio officials are facing:

In Class B, for high-power stations, there are only 48 wavelengths available, which are being used by 92 stations.

In the next class, Class A, there are 53 wave bands available, but 467 stations are using them.

The 275-meter wavelength alone is held by 28 stations scattered through the country.

New York has a total of 30 A and B stations, Chicago 32 and Los Angeles 16.

And more applications are being made weekly for additional stations.

War Hero Urges France to Sell Distant Lands

PARIS, July 6.—Under the headline, "Should We Cede Our Colonies?" a wounded war veteran, Jean Hess, in the newspaper Petit Bleu, states the Washington treaty has robbed France of the right to maintain a navy and protect itself, and declares that in the inevitable next war it will lose its overseas possessions by other powers, which will grab them.

Since France is unable to hold its colonies, he draws the deduction that it is better to sell them and rid itself, in part at least, of the heavy war debt.

M. Hess draws a cynical picture of the coming conflict.

"The other great powers are our friends. Do you think so? No one knows what international relations will be tomorrow. All peoples are in a state of economic and financial warfare, which is always the prelude to real warfare. We are falling into the same situation as before 1914. Everybody wants privileged markets and monopolized production for raw materials, industry and commerce. Whatever cannot protect his own loses it."

Bottoms of Gin Bottles Their Link to Society

The gift also includes articles made by the Orang Koeboes, a remnant of the pre-Malay aborigines of Sumatra, who have only seen two white men.

There are a number of crude implements, one of which is a war drum, shaped like a dumbell with a drum at each end and a handle in the middle.

BROADCASTS MUDDLE UP NEW YORK!

NEW YORK, July 6.—New York is in a muddle over the confused broadcasting situation that prevails here.

Fifteen stations within the metropolitan area alone, most of them on the air at the same time, is the most serious fault to which listeners and others object. Yet congestion of the air is only part of the difficulty facing the fans in and around the big city.

Program features conflict, advertising fills the air, stations refuse to be silent for a night. It is a veritable battle for supremacy, the result of the government's failure to grasp the situation at the very beginning and regulate it.

Now, listeners protest, they may as well discard their big sets and take to crystal receivers. They can't get out of town before midnight at the earliest, and even then some of the New York broadcasters add more power in an endeavor to reach farther across land and sea.

Broadcasters contend there should be no silent night in New York, because local fans with small sets and distant fans would be disappointed by the complete shut-down of the New York studios, on which they depend for entertainment almost entirely.

In addition, the broadcasters say, even fans with larger sets, living in New York, do not care to get outside of the city during the early broadcasting hours. They are satisfied with local concerts, trying for distance only late at night or early morning.

So, little chance is seen for a complete shut-down of all New York studios any day in the week.

SIBERIA FALLS

Inhabitants of Siberia and Russian central Asia are now beginning to take up radio. The Soviet government is planning nine new broadcasting stations in its territory.

Everywhere That Millspaugh Goes Bossy's Sure T'go

NEW YORK, July 6.—When Guy Millspaugh travels, no matter where, he takes with him a Jersey cow of notable pedigree. Just now he is stopping at the Inn, a hotel in Flushing, and stakes his cow on the front lawn. Mr. Millspaugh says he has a physician's order to keep to a diet of warm milk, always from the same cow.

Parisians Start Move for Purity

PARIS, July 3.—Present conditions in Paris are giving tourists such a bad impression of the French people that the League for the Furtherance of Public Morality has begun an offensive to clean up the city.

"For the majority of strangers the real masterpieces of French genius are not French art and literature, but daring shows and books, which are translated into every language," the secretary of the league declared. "The latter lead the people to believe the French nation is in complete decadence."

A rabbi, a Catholic priest and a Protestant clergyman, addressing a meeting of the league, demanded that the police suppress dirty books, shows, magazines, postcards, and other literature which is "ruining the world, tourists, and French youth."

VILLA FAVORITE TO CONQUER M'LARNIN

OAKLAND, Calif., July 3.—With their fight only one day ahead, Pancho Villa ruled a heavy favorite here today over Jimmy McLarnin.

Betting is 2 to 1 that Villa, the flyweight champion, will beat McLarnin in their ten round battle tomorrow.

Greater experience of the Filipino boxer, who has had 150 bouts, while the Belfast boy has been in only 53 fights, is at the bottom of the odds situation.

McLarnin is conceded a big pull in the weight, something around eight pounds since the battle is not at the flyweight limit and Villa's title is not involved. Jimmy also is taller and has the greater reach.

Car Looters Take All But Squeaks

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 3.—The most complete job of thievery on an automobile ever reported in this section came to light when police were asked to apprehend the looters of a car belonging to W. E. Roberts. The robbers took the machine five miles out of town and stripped it of everything except the chassis, steering wheel and two seat cushions. Everything else, including engine and wheels, was taken.

$5 Deposited In Bank Yields $158

EAST BRIDGEWATER, Mass., July 3.—Seventy-seven years ago there was entered in a bank book owned by Mrs. M. Clifton Edson, of this town, a deposit of $5 by her mother, Mrs. Harriet Holbrook. Nothing more is recorded deposited or withdrawn, but, thanks to the accumulated interest, the $5 is now $158.10.

Thieves Attempt To Steal Stone

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 3.—Police here believed they had heard of every conceivable kind of robbery until they were notified of an attempt to seal the cornerstone of a church. Chisels and hammers evidently were used by robbers in an effort to get the cornerstone of the Episcopal Church of the Holy Cross (colored), a stone building.

At Last We Can Attend Opera in Shirt Sleeves

C. FRANCIS JENKINS AND HIS ASSISTANT, J. W. ROBINSON, WITH THE RADIO-MOVIE RECEIVER JENKINS INVENTED.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—C. Francis Jenkins, famous radio inventor, will go down in history as both benefactor and malefactor of mankind.

His radio-movie invention will be the cause.

Imagine one of these inventions in your own home—and consider the probable results.

Tune in and you could "attend" the opera in your shirt sleeves! Wonderful, Jenkins!

But be sure and "attend" at home, or your wife may tune in on the prize fight you happen to attend in person, and see you by radio in the first row. Not so good, Jenkins!

That's the good and the bad of this radio-movie invention. It will keep us at home, or spy on us elsewhere.

If it keeps us at home, we'll become a race of loafers and lazybones. We may, as was suggested some years ago when automobiles first came into use, we may even lose the use of our lower limbs after going to the theaters, movies, opera, athletic events and other public entertainments, by just sitting in front of the radio-movie set.

Compensating for this loss, we may become big-eared and big-eyed!

Awful, Jenkins, awful!

"FAN FARE"

Common Radio Questions Answered By POWEL CROSLEY, JR.

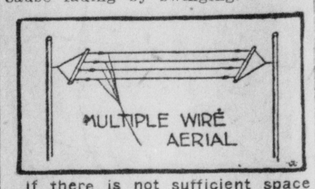

What kind of aerial should I use?

ANSWER—The best kind of aerial to use with the average set is an outdoor aerial. An indoor aerial is about 10 per cent as efficient as a good outdoor aerial, and a loop is still less efficient.

How long and how high should my aerial be?

ANSWER—For use with the average set we recommend a 50 to 100 foot aerial (not including lead-in) about 25 feet high. The lead-in should be short. Excessively long aerials decrease selectivity, pick up undue amount of interference, and are liable to cause fading by swinging.

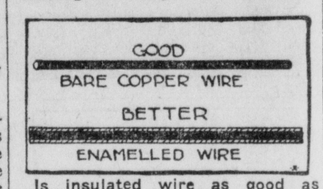

If there is not sufficient space to erect a single-wire aerial, would a shorter aerial of two or more wires do?

ANSWER—Where there is insufficient space for a single-wire aerial, use a two to four-wire aerial from 20 to 50 feet long. The wires should be two to six feet apart.

If an aerial 50 feet long brings in stations 1500 miles distant, will longer aerials bring in more distant stations?

ANSWER—The distance received cannot be increased by increasing the length of the aerial.

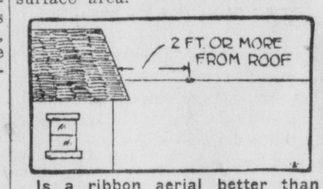

Is insulated wire as good as bare wire for building an aerial?

ANSWER—Most authorities consider enameled wire to be the best for building an aerial. Bare wire corrodes, and this increases its resistance to radio-frequency currents.

Is stranded wire better than solid wire as an aerial?

ANSWER—Stranded wire is better than solid wire of the same size because it has less resistance to the high-frequency radio currents, due to its greater surface area.

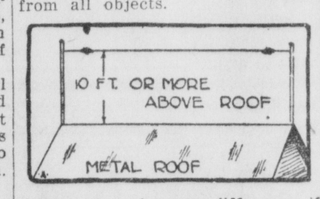

Is a ribbon aerial better than stranded or solid copper wire?

ANSWER—For receiving purposes, it will hardly be possible to tell the difference in the efficiency of a stranded wire, or ribbon wire, over a plain copper wire of approximately the same surface area.

How far should insulators be from aerial supports?

ANSWER—The part of the aerial between insulators should be in the clear at least two feet from all objects.

Does it make any difference if one side of the aerial is higher than the other?

ANSWER—Variation in the height of antenna supports makes very little difference as long as the average height is kept the same.

Does a metal roof affect an aerial?

ANSWER—A metal roof may spoil reception if the aerial is placed too near it. If it is necessary to build the aerial directly over or under the roof, support it 10 or more feet away from it.

Is an aerial dangerous during lightning storms?

ANSWER—A properly protected aerial (connected to an approved lightning arrester or lightning switch) acts as a protection from lightning rather than as asource of danger.

Which do you recommend, a lightning arrester or a lightning switch?

ANSWER—It is considered best to use a lightning arrester.

Mistakes Girl for Rabbit and Shoots

SASKATOON, Sask., July 6.—Severely wounded by the discharge of a shotgun in the hands of her ticles in the possession of the Yagden child for a jack rabbit, Mary Horki 4 years old, is in the hospital at Humboldt. The pellets struck the girl in the neck and left side. She is expected to recover.

CANNED FRUIT IS NEEDED AT CAMP KEARNEY

"While you are putting up fruit or making jelly or jam, add a jar or two or a few glasses for the sick soldiers at Camp Kearney."

This request comes to housewives of Santa Ana, Tustin and nearby communities from the American Legion auxiliary, the American Legion and Santa Ana chapter of the American Red Cross.

The request is made at this time for the reason that the canning season has commenced. Many housewives are canning apricots, and will soon be putting up peaches, plums and other fruits.

Later in the summer a day will be set on which the canned fruits, jellies and jams will be received at the American Legion rooms on Birch street. This day will likely be some day toward the middle of August. The sweets will be placed in a truck and taken to Camp Kearney.

Mrs. H. H. Reaves, representing the auxiliary, said that at the time a call is issued for fruit, jelly and jam, a call also would be issued for small pillows and pillow cases. The size of pillow wanted is what generally is known as a baby pillow. These are very useful in caring for patients. The Camp Kearney hospital never has too many small pillows.

The Red Cross co-operation in the matter was promised by T. E. Stephenson, chairman of the chapter, who said that recently the Pacific division of the Red Cross issued a circular letter to chapters, stating that large quantities of jams and jellies are needed to supplement the diets of patients in government hospitals. This circular letter said:

"At the present time there are 5600 veterans in hospitals within the Pacific branch territory—many are suffering with tuberculosis—and these patients particularly would be happy and grateful for jams and jellies which volunteers in your chapter might prepare during the fruit season."

British Families Arrive In Canada To Take Up Farms

HALIFAX, N. S., July 3.—Vanguard of 300 British families, who will be settled on farms in Canada within the next three years under joint arrangement of the British and Dominion government, has arrived here. The party consisted of 39 families, totaling 199 men, women and children.

The men in the party, immigration officials said, have all had farming experience and were selected by government agents in England, Ireland and Scotland as types of settlers most likely to succeed in Canada. The newcomers will be sent principally to western Canada, where farm settlement has in recent years been rapid.

Under the agreement entered into, the British government will contribute up to $1200 per family to supply farm equipment and necessities, and the land settlement board of the Canadian government department of immigration will place the immigrants on suitable farms. No farms will be sold to the new settlers until they have worked with neighboring farmers a sufficient time to demonstrate that they are likely to succeed on the land. The farms will be sold on 25-year terms. Payments will amount to practically no more than rental of the land.

Before the end of 1925, it is expected that 1000 families will be brought over from the United Kingdom. The arrangement was completed with the British government by Honorable James A. Robb, minister of immigration and colonization. Success of the new venture, it is pointed out, will be a demonstration of how British farmers can make good in Canada.

Fewer Barracks And More Homes, Sweden's Plea

STOCKHOLM, July 3.—More room for cradles and fewer military barracks is the order of the day in Sweden. By its recent vote the national legislature has sustained the proposal of the social-democratic government to cut down the number of army corps from six to four and to reduce all army and navy expenditures accordingly.

All the parties of the left, liberals, social-democrats and communists, supported this move in the teeth of determined opposition from the right wing conservatives. At the same time, the officers' rooms in one of the former regimental barracks of Stockholm have already been reconstructed into emergency tenements for families unable to procure other housing, and the city itself runs a real estate bureau, where information may be had free of charge as to where vacant flats or houses may be found.

With an unprecedented building activity going on, the end of housing shortage is in sight. Within the limits of Stockholm itself close to 3000 new apartments are under construction and in the suburbs entire communities are growing up.

Our Neighbors

ALHAMBRA—A movement in favor of annexation to Los Angeles developed at a mass meeting of citizens. More than 100 persons attended and, according to E. C. Jacobs, who was one of the leaders in calling the meeting, a majority sentiment in favor of joining the larger city was in evidence. E. C. Bond was elected temporary chairman of the movement and a committee was named to invite W. W. Benedict, president of the City Commission, and F. M. Renfro, chamber of commerce secretary, to attend the next meeting July 9. A committee was also named to consult with Los Angeles officials as to this city's chances of being accepted if an annexation election should be carried. This committee was also instructed to secure all available data regarding the project. One of the speakers at next week's meeting will be C. Young, president of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce.

RIVERSIDE—More than $3000 was obtained as the first subscriptions for a fund which is to finance the construction of a stone foot bridge over the roadway near the top of Mount Rubidoux, which is to be erected as a testimonial to the good will and honor which his fellow townsmen hold for Frank A. Miller, the master of the Mission Inn. The foot bridge is to be erected on what is known as the Seventh street trail at its intersection with the automobile road. Architect Arthur B. Benton who has for years designed additional features to the Mission Inn, is preparing sketches for plans for the bridge and it is planned to erect a medallion of the head of Mr. Miller on the bridge if sufficient funds are obtained. It is planned to hurry the work to completion, while Mr. and Mrs. Miller are in the Orient and arrange the dedication as a celebration of their homecoming probably in November or December of this year.

SANTA MONICA—Edward A. Dickson, president of the board of regents of the state university, speaking before members of civic organizations and interested citizens, urged them to vote bonds toward the purchase of the Westwood site ofr the Southern Branch of the university, declaring that an obligation condition to the building of the institution there is that the site shall be free of any encumbrance. This city has been asked to vote $120,000 in bonds, Venice $50,000, Beverly Hills $170,000. Sawtelle's share comes through the $700,000 Los Angeles bond issue. Ed. B. Conliss will act as campaign leader, and it is believed the bonds will meet with little opposition. In Venice civic leaders will meet Monday evening, when reasons why the bonds should be supported to assure the bringing of the university to Westwod will be presented

VENICE—City Trustees have voted against allowing any more billboards in the city. They agreed there were enough advertising boards and no more permits will be issued. Los Angeles advertising concerns made application to place more poster boards in Venice. Special concessions may be made, it was said, where the boards are unusually attractive and in locations where they will not obscure the view.

Dutch Shippers Look Forward to Better Business

ROTTERDAM, Holland, July 3.—A slow clearing of the international European horizon, coupled with a gradual stabilization of exchange rates and prospects of the execution of the Dawes plan enhancing the buying power of central European nations, are mentioned as favorable factors for this year in the annual report of the Netherlands Shipowners' federation, which controls 656 vessels, or 97 1-2 per cent of the entire Dutch mercantile marine.

For the present, however, the condition of the freight market imposes extreme economy, says the report, which points out that foreign competition remains exceedingly keen. Dutch, American and English rates of pay for seamen, according to the report, are the highest in the world.

They are double the German or Italian rates, and this explains why ships sold to the latter countries because they cannot be made to pay at home, can be run at a good profit by their new owners.

Bandit Declines Request to Fire

SEATTLE, July 3. — When Gladys Orr, 22 years old, clerk in a grocery here, was confronted by a wound be bandit who ordered her "stick up her hands," with one of his own hands in an ominously bulging pocket, she told him, "Be yourself, bud. Run sell your papers."

"If you don't stick 'em up I'll shoot," the robber warned.

"All right, mister, proceed and shoot," Miss Orr responded.

The robber fled.

Pussy on Electric Wires Stops Mines

COBALT, Ont., July 3.—A cat, whose nine lives expired at once, stopped all the mines in three camps while committing suicide on a pole of a power line at South Lorrain. The cat, the property of an operator, got his tail on one wire and a paw on another of a 44,000 volt line. Pussy went west, and all the mines here and at South Lorrain and Kirkland Lake ceased operations for five minutes until the power was restored.

DRIVES 6000 MILES WITHIN TEN DAYS

When Charles H. Holdson, veteran stunt pilot and widely known as one of the west's most famous endurance drivers, passed through Santa Ana Wednesday in his Richfield-Powered Deusenberg, enroute to Los Angeles from San Diego, he was on the last lap of what is declared one of the stiffest tests for motor and man ever conceived and excuted. This was driving a total of 6000 miles within 10 days. In the 6000-mile run he drove 21 hours every day, averaging 28 miles to the gallon of gasoline. He slept three hours out of the 24 in the 10 days.

Despite the gruelling pace which has been necessary to maintain a stringent schedule, both car and pilot were in excellent shape when checked in here and Holdson expressed the highest praise for the car's performance. He gave much credit to Richfield gasoline, with which the Duesenberg is powered, and to the pure Pennsylvania Richlube oil which has enabled him to drive a trouble-proof series of journeys.

With Los Angeles as the central point. Holdson's runs have been round-trip ones, alternating between San Diego and Los Angeles and San Francisco and Los Angeles.

One of the interesting features of the journey is that Holdson, who is an advocate of a vegetarian diet, has subsisted mostly on nuts and raisins. While he admitted that he has varied this light diet with some fresh vegetables and fruit from time to time, he has eaten no meat on what has been termed the "Meatless Motor Marathon," nor has he drunk coffee, tea or even milk. Another "high light" of the marathon has been the fact that he carried at all times a violinist with him who has rendered "atmosphere music, alternately playing to keep the driver either awake or asleep, as the occasion required.

MANY INTERESTED IN NEW CHRYSLER

In the opinion of Paul Clark, manager of the Hancock Motors company, the outstanding feature in California automobile circles during the last week was the initial appearance of the new Chrysler four-cylinder line, which consists of a touring car, club coupe, coach and four-door sedan styles. The Chrysler four, according to Clark, comes in response to a public demand for another car bearing the Chrysler name that is available at a lower price.

The new line was placed on display by the Hancock Motors company and was given an immediate stamp of approval by the hundreds of people that crowded the showrooms for the initial exhibit.

"The new car is the product of the same engineers and manufacturing executives who, in the Chrysler six, revolutionized motor car design and construction." Clark said. "Motor car authorities who have seen the new model consider it to be equally as notable an achievement in its field as its famous companion. It is built to the same close manufacturing limits and of the same high quality materials.

"The new Chrysler four is the outgrowth of research, design and test which first resulted in the conception of the Chrysler six. Adaption of the results achieved in the six to the four-cylinder model has been going on since the appearance of the six. According to the S. A. E. formula, the horsepower of the new four is 21.03. It actually delivers 38.5."

Fourteen planes were entered for the start from the Croydon field this forenoon and the circuit set for them was an 804 mile run.

Answer: Because Buicks are always popular with new car buyers and also because Buick's dependable construction results in a much longer life for Buicks than is ordinarily the span of service of a motor car.

THE APRICOT PASSES

A stray apricot ochard here and there today is a reminder of what the apricot used to mean to the Santa Ana valley. From one of the foremost apricot growing counties in the state, the county has come to the place where it counts its apricot crop among its very minor crops. In fact, today, it is possible that there are not 500 acres of apricots to be found between the Santa Ana mountains and the sea.

To be sure, in calling attention to the passing of the apricot we are not grieving, although there was a kind of romance about the handling of the apricot crop, just as there is romance about any activity now past in which many were employed. The ripening of the russet golden fruit, the gathering of the crop, the pitting camps, the drying yards, the scramble to get the fruit cut and on the trays bfeore it spoiled, the calling of the camps for help, the response to the call by hundreds of women and children who worked away from home at no other time of year, the sulphuring of the juicy golden halves, the fruit spread out to dry beneath the sun, all these things make pictures that are recalled by many hundreds of residents of this county at this time of year.

But our land was too valuable for apricot growing to last. The coming of the valencia orange spelled its doom in this county. Orchard after orchard was cut down and the valencia, also a fruit of gold, was put in its place. From the financial point of view, we have no regrets, for the valencia holds a place that no deciduous fruit can ever reach. The apricot can be grown all over the state; the valencia only in a favored climate, a climate marked by cooling breezes in summer and the warmth of the ocean in winter. The income from a valencia orchard far outstrips anything the apricot in its palmiest days in the Santa Ana Valley ever knew.

ORGANIZED AND ON THE JOB

Reports from Santa Barbara give credit to the Chamber of Commerce of that city for doing excellent work in bringing order out of the chaos that followed the earthquake that damaged Santa Barbara. The Chamber of Commerce became the principal active agent of relief, and by reason of the fact that it was thoroughly organized and promptly on the job it was able to do effective work.

The experience of Santa Barbara is cited as an argument for maintenance of a strong Chamber of Commerce in every city. No city can tell whether it will suffer from some kind of disaster, there should be in every city an organization ready to do the thing that should be done in a great emergency.

The Chamber of Commerce has important functions in times for quietude. If it is strong and active then, it is the logical body to undertake relief work in case the city is stricken.

MOST NEEDED INVENTIONS

Some one recently wrote to a newspaper question department to ask what are the greatest inventions yet to be made. No less a person than Hudson Maxim gives the answer.

The greatest invention yet to be made, he says, is a method of government whereby the common people may be made self-governing and at the same time be prevented from committing political and social suicide through enfranchised ignorance and avarice. This is a rather large order and one which most persons would except to have filled only by means of a long process of education and intellectual development.

The next things the famous inventor suggests as being greatly needed are a method utilizing interatomic energy for power and heat and a method of transmitting dynamic energy by wireless, so that from a central source motors may be run hundreds and thousands of miles away. These, also, are large orders, but there have already been scientific forshadowings of a day when they will be found among the practical achievements. Still another suggested need is a simple device by which deaf people may hear.

Perhaps these things are no more difficult or impossible than other marvels which have long since become commonplace. At least they are thought-provoking.

AHEAD IN MUSIC

A distinguished American orchestra conductor, after a trip abroad in which he visited the important music centers, says on his return:

"Thank God for America."

Meaning not political or industrial or commercial or financial America, but musical America. As for the country he observed most closely:

"America is so far ahead of England that there is no standard of comparison. She is ahead in central organization and administration, in financial support, in concert work, in musical production, but best of all, in musical appreciation."

The musical leadership of Europe, he concludes, is gone. Much taste and appreciation still exist, especially in continental countries, but the creative spirit is dead. "European composers seem to have become suddenly inarticulate."

So musical leadership passes to America, along with economic leadership. Who would have expected it a dozen years ago?

SAVE GASOLINE

Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association, makes a powerful plea for conservation of the gasoline supply. Never, he says, has there been such need of care. Whether the available petroleum supply is really nearing exhaustion, or whether the oil interests are merely pretending that it is, makes little difference to the motorist. In either case, lavish use of the fuel hastens exhaustion and raises prices, and thrift will delay exhaustion and keep prices down.

There are many ways of doing this, he points out. One is to cut down the "idle miles" the motor runs. Many cars burn up more gasoline in idling through congested districts than they use in effective locomotion, when they might avoid this loss by choosing other routes. There is enormous waste in slavishly following trolley cars and stopping and starting with them every block for two miles. There is loss in running an ordinary car below 15 miles an hour or above 25 miles, between which is found the greatest fuel efficiency. A good saving may be made by coasting down along hills, using proper precautions. Keeping the engine warm is another way to gain mileage. To these might be added the rather obvious measures of keeping all the motive and rolling mechanism in good working order, properly lubricated, with the tires inflated at the point of least resistance.

But Mr. Henry, with all his good advice, puts all the onus on the motorist. Much of the responsibility belongs with the manufacturer. There has never been the effort there should be, in this country, to make cars of high fuel efficiency. It was estimated a year or two ago that one small type of American car wasted 400,000,000 gallons of gasoline a year merely because it lacked an efficient carburetor.

Perhaps the greatest cause of fuel waste is the building of unnecessarily large and heavy cars, making too much dead weight to haul around.

Great Tradition Falls

San Francisco Chronicle.

After all the years that have passed since Charles A. Dana gave his recipe for news, there is something disappointing about the performance of the Pennsylvania man that has translated the formula into action by biting his dog.

"If a dog bites a man it isn't news; if a man bites a dog it's a whale of a story," is the tradition handed on by men that boasted they "worked with Dana on the Sun."

Until the Eighteenth Amendment wrought its subtle change in Amercan customs and viewpoint, this stock answer did very well for students of journalism and readers of inquiring mind who asked: "What is news?"

But now that Frank Kigger of McKeesport actually has bitten his dog, the event turns out not to be a whale of a story at all. It is just an oddity told in a couple of hundred words, and even those largely due to being linked up with Dana's little joke.

The news report gives us no wealth of detail as reward for the long and patient wait for the impossible to happen. The worthy Kigger does not disclose the psychological delight to be found in gnawing the back of the faithful Rover. Even Rover's urge to self-expression has been sternly censored by the correspondent, who, in place of all these features, sends word merely that Kigger had been drinking moonshine. And this, apparently, is accepted as ample explanation for anything that may happen.

We Have the Money

Bakersfield Californian.

It is interesting to note that the fruit shipment from California this year, will exceed 90,000 cars, and the proceeds will represent the state's greatest income from any single industry. Those who have not followed the trend of development in that direction throughout the interior and coast counties within the last decade will have some trouble in appreciating the extent of the growth of that industry. But we have only to travel for a few hours through the environs of this city to have it borne in on us just how tremendous is the expansion in the rural sections here. In Arvin, Shafter, Wasco, Delano, McFarland, Edison and other sections, the acreage now in bearing trees and vines far exceeds anything that could have been anticipated a few years ago, and what is true in Kern county is true the state over.

California has more automobiles per capita than any other state in the Union and there are those who have been disquieted by the tremendous outgo of money for the purchase of these cars. Yet as against this, we are not lacking in income, as witness the fact that this season alone, we have exported 90,000 cars of fruit for consumption in the land where they build automobiles.

An Ounce of Prevention

Riverside Enterprise.

An ounce of prevention frequently has been described as being of considerable value. That is an especially important thing to remember at this particular time of year when Riversiders, as well as other Californians, are planning vacations in the national forests. So far this year, forest and brush fires have been happily small and few. But the season scarcely has started. If every person who went to the mountains would take even the most elemental precautions with matches, cigars, and cigarets, forest fires would be reduced to a very small number. In certain rare instances, fires start from natural phenomena, such as the sun shining on a bit of glass, but in most cases these disastrous blazes are caused by human carelessness—criminal foolishness—to put it more strongly.

During the next few weeks when you are in the hills, make yourself a committee of one to prevent fires.

These great forests are a priceless possession. We must guard them carefully.

YOUR HEALTH

SOUND, RESTFUL SLEEP NEEDED

Some folk can sleep in a boiler factory. Others are driven to a nervous frenzy by the barking of a dog, five blocks away.

Pathologists have agreed, however, that sharp and sudden noises are a cause for nervous disorders. One's muscles may rest in the midst of noise, but nerve centers continue to get the hammer blows through the auditory nerves.

And without complete rest the strongest nervous system will ultimately break down with nervous exhaustion or with some specific nerve disorder.

Sound restful sleep in the presence of noise is impossible. A person who lives in the midst of noise gets no really complete rest, day or night. Asleep or awake, the nerve centers are constantly receiving a torrent of irritating impulses.

No bedroom should face a street where there is auto or street car traffic all night.

It is much better to have a bedroom overlooking an alley, garages, and neighbors' back yards, providing there are no cats nor dogs, than to have it looking out over the street lights and all-night traffic.

Sunshine

San Jose Mercury Herald

The Boy Scouts, Camp Fire girls and other exponents of the out-of-doors are enjoying benefits of life in the open. They see the things of the world in a new light and understand nature better. They meet friends in the same cause, swap stories and form congenial companionships. Every student of the big out-doors gets new object lessons, makes new resolves and forms new links of character with the day of sunshine.

Sunshine is the test of summer time. It ripens the grain and fruit and gives strength to the camper. All nature has a smiling face when the sun causes the plants to grow, the flowers to open and the fruits to mature. Sunshine induces youth to get out, amid the fields and forests, drink in the pure air and enjoy the healthfulness of exercise in the open.

There are profits in sunshine that one does not always reckon on when planning an outing in the open. It creates beauty and attractiveness and thereby adds to efficiency and usefulness. It helps in fitting one for future work and inculcates a desire for keeping young in order to continue enjoying the playfields of youth. Yes, there are countless benefits to be derived from mingling with the all-out-doors. The sun paints smiles on the cheeks of humanity in unerasible lines.

Worth While Verse

THE SIN OF OMISSION

It isn't the thing you do, dear;
It's the thing you leave undone,
Which gives you a bit of a heart-ache
At the setting of the sun.
The tender word forgotten,
The letter you did not write,
The flower you might have sent, dear,
Are your haunting ghosts to night.

The stone you might have lifted
Out of a brother's way,
The bit of heartsome counsel
You were hurried too much to say;
The loving touch of the hand, dear,
The gentle and winsome tone,
That you had no time nor thought for,
With troubles enough of your own.

The little acts of kindness,
So early out of mind;
Those chances to be angels
Which everyone may find—
They come in night and silence—
Each chill, reproachful wraith—
When hope is faint and flagging
And a blight has dropped on faith.

For life is all too short, dear,
And sorrow is all too great;
So suffers our great compassion
That tarries until too late;
And it's not the thing you do, dear,
It's the thing you've left undone,
Which gives you the bit of heart-ache
At the setting of the sun.

THE CALIFORNIA WAY—Yes, we had an earthquake here in California, and it did right smart of damage to property at Santa Barbara, where the temblor seemed to center its force. Worse than the property damage, which is estimated at various amounts ranging from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000, was the loss of life, for a dozen persons were killed.

Bad as it is, the quake can hardly be considered as sufficient cause for the pessimistic story of "dreadful disaster to California" given publicity throughout the East.

So far as the property damage is concerned, two or three years hence Santa Barbara will doubtless be rebuilt with much finer and much safer buildings than those destroyed, and will be a greater city in every respect. That's the California way of doing things after an earthquake, and Santa Barbara is 100 per cent Californian.

ALAS FOR THE DIGNITY OF WOMANHOOD—A sidelight on how some of the so-called "best people" of Los Angeles spend their leisure time, and, incidentally, their money, is furnished by the arrest of Archibald T. Rainey, a negro fortune teller, whose clientele, according to the police, consisted of hundreds of wealthy Los Angeles women. At any rate, when the arrest was made, twelve beautifully gowned women of Los Angeles were sitting in the luxuriously apopinted living room of the alleged seer, waiting to have their fortunes told.

The specific charge against Rainey is that he practiced the art of "astrology, palmistry, phrenology, life reading, fortune telling, cartomancy, clairvoyance, clairaudience, crystal-gazing, hypnotism, mediumship, prophecy, augury, divination, magic and necromancy," and has received fees without getting a permit from the Board of Police Commissioners, in violation of the statutes therein made and provided.

That ought to hold him.

MUCH FUSS MADE OVER THE CHAPLIN BABY—Judging from the columns and more columns of slush and gush devoted to it by the Los Angeles newspapers, the birth of a son and heir to Charley Chaplin, movie actor, was an event of extraordinary importance. Never was there anything equal to it as a matter for discussion.

Poor child! Born into, and of, an atmosphere not beautiful under the best of circumstances, the work of turning out another finished product of the American movie stage was commenced before he had well commenced to breathe.

Perhaps it is as well to give him the center of the stage now, for with the handicap he starts with, he is not apt to be a winner in the race of life.

EVIDENTLY THE GOVERNOR BEARS A CHARMED LIFE—"Press agenting" in behalf of the governor of California would seem to be very much in order. Witness, for example, the story sent out from Sacramento, Monday, telling how nearly Governor Richardson was to being "among those present" at the Santa Barbara earthquake Monday.

The governor's plans, we were told, would require his presence in Santa Barbara Tuesday. As it happened he was not there or anywhere in the vicinity Monday.

But, startling as was the governor's escape from disaster at Santa Barbara, it wasn't a circumstance to the close call he had at Sixteen Mile canyon, Montana, where a huge cliff, 800 feet high, toppled on the railway track, covering it 200 feet deep for a distance of 1000 feet. Fortunately the governor wasn't there, either, but it was surely a narrow escape.

SENATOR KING'S BILL BRINGS HOME BACON—The Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railway companies have just paid to the state of California back taxes amounting to over $8,000,000, levied under the so-called "King Bill," which levy the railway people said was unconstitutional, and the taxes would never be paid.

The railway people seem at last to have concluded that the King bill is constitutional—at all events they are paying the taxes in full, with the added penalties.

Doubtless the good people of California will feel that any law which justly swells the contents of the state treasury in an amount exceeding eight million dollars is a good law—albeit, in the last analysis, said good people furnish the wherewithal for said swelling.

Ex-State Senator Lyman M. King, who was so roundly abused for his "unconstitutional" attempt to have the railways pay their fair share of taxes, is, no doubt, feeling quite well, nowadays, despite the warm weather.

A WAKEFUL SLEEPER—He who considers that the county assessor of Orange county is that which his name would imply will make a mistake. For Assessor Sleeper thoroughly knows his business, and is very much awake.

His hobby—for he has one—is to see to it that every tax payer, be it individual or organization, pays taxes in accordance with his or its property holdings. Mr. Sleeper long ago demonstrated that he has the law with him and he believes in law enforcement.

Naturally, then, when he found, the other day, a big oil organization refusing to pay its taxes, amounting to over $38,000, and threatening to go to law instead, the assessor said: "All right. Go to law if you wish. But meantime, I will just proceed by attachment, and hang on to this $75,000 worth of your property so that, when you get through going to law, there will be plenty on hand to pay what you owe Orange county."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 7—THE SOUR OLD WOMAN'S ADVICE

At last the Twins reached the house of the Sour-Old-Woman. "We got safely over the seven mountains. Twelve Toes did all he could to stop us, but we got away safely."

The Sour-Old-Woman was so glad to get the balloon that for about two minutes she forgot to look sour. Indeed, she looked so kindly at the children that they forgot all about her sourness. Which shows that no matter how homely a person is, it doesn't matter one bit, if he only looks kind and happy.

"Now I'll find my fortune," said she happily. "And in return I shall give you the key to the secret cupboard in Pixie Cave."

"How do you get to Pixie Cave?" asked Nancy.

"Fod goodness sake!" cried the Sour-Old Woman. "Don't you know? Here you are, hunting for the Fairy Queen's lost bee-hive, and you haven't any more idea of how to go about it than the Babes-in-the-Woods. The key to the cupboard won't do you any good if you can't find the cupboard. Come here!"

The children followed the Sour-Old-Woman to the top of the waterfall and she pointed toward the north. "Pixie Cave is two miles away in that direction," said she.

"But before you get there, you will have three things to pass.

"First there is the pebble-wall. In order to get over it you will have to get permission from the Bean Shooter Man, who sells these tiny pebbles for bean-shooters.

"Second, there is the Mire-of-Mud, over which it is impossible to go, even with magic shoes. The only way one can get over the Mire-of-Mud is on the wooden horse, and to do this you must get permission of the Saddler.

"Third," said the Sour-Old-Woman, "there is the cucumber patch of the Pickle Woman which grows so high and so prickly, that again your magic shoes won't help you, unless you get the Pickle Woman's help."

"Is that all?" asked Nick.

"Isn't that enough?" said the Sour-Old-Woman. "It is no easy task to get to Pixie Cave, my dears. Even now you know more about it than most people, yet it may take you years to get there."

"Oh dear!" cried Nancy. "That will never, never, never do. What is the Fairy Queen going to do all that time without her honey?"

"Don't worry," laughed the Sour-Old-Woman. "It will probably do her good. Too much sweet stuff isn't good for anyone. But after all, you are pretty smart, so you may get to Pixie Cave much sooner than that. I'm very much obliged for the balloon. Now I am sure to find my fortune. You see I have my own rainbow over the waterfall when the sun shines on the spray. I shall roll the balloon down this rainbow. Wherever it touches the ground I shall be sure to find a pot of gold. Good-bye now, my dears. Thank you and good luck."
